

CONTENTS

LIST OF MAPS / VIII

LIST OF TABLES / IX

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS / X

INTRODUCTION: FINDING OUR MOTHERS, FINDING OURSELVES / XIII

NOTE ON WOMEN'S NAMES / XXIII

1. Emancipation through Higher Education	1
2. Dutiful Daughters, Rebels, and Dreamers: Shaping the Jewish University Woman	18
3. University Years: Jewish Women and German Academia	42
4. Professional Quest and Career Options	67
5. The Marriage Plot: Career versus Family?	108
6. Jews, Feminists, and Socialists: Personal Identity and Political Involvement	133
7. Interrupted Lives: Persecution and Emigration	163
8. Reconstructing Lives and Careers	181
Epilogue: The Legacy	196

GLOSSARY AND ABBREVIATIONS / 202

APPENDIX: TABLES / 206

NOTES / 218

BIBLIOGRAPHY / 263

INDEX / 281

MAPS

- | | |
|---|-------|
| 1. Central Europe, 1871–1914:
Birthplaces of Jewish University Women | xxvi |
| 2. Central Europe, 1919–1938:
Cities and Towns with Universities | xxvii |

TABLES

1. Austrian Jewish Women Students at the University of Vienna, 1897–1934	206
2. German Jewish Students at Prussian Universities, 1899–1933	207
3. Professional Fields of Jewish University Women as Compared with Their Fathers and Husbands	208
4. Size and Composition of Families of Jewish University Women	209
5. Birth Order among Jewish University Women	209
6. Central European Universities Attended by Jewish University Women	210
7. Jewish University Women by Age Cohort and Age	211
8. Jewish Students at German Universities by Field of Study, 1928/29	212
9. Medical Specialization among Central European Physicians in the 1930s	213
10. Marital and Family Status of Jewish University Women	214
11. Religious Affiliation, Marital Status, and Inter-marriage among Jewish University Women	214
12. Emigration of Jewish University Women from Central Europe during the Nazi Era	215
13. Jewish University Women in Nazi Europe during the Holocaust	216
14. Emigration Destinations of Jewish University Women before 1945	217