

Contents

List of contributors	vii
Acknowledgements	ix
1 Introduction Anthony Fletcher and Stephen Hussey	1
2 What is a child? Anna Davin	15
3 Death in childhood: the practice of the 'good death' in James Janeway's A Token for Children Ralph Houlbrooke	37
4 Silent witnesses? Children and the breakdown of domestic and social order in early modern England Elizabeth A. Foyster	57
5 'A denial of innocence': female juvenile victims of rape and the English legal system in the eighteenth century Julie Gammon	74
6 Home, play and street life: causes of, and explanations for, juvenile crime in the early nineteenth century Heather Shore	96
7 Parent-child separations and colonial careers: the Talbot family correspondence in the 1880s and 1890s Elizabeth Buettner	115
8 Family, community and the regulation of child sexual abuse: London, 1870-1914 Louise A. Jackson	133
9 Lost childhoods: recovering children's experience of welfare in modern Scotland Lynn Abrams	152
Index	173