

Table of contents

Overview	11
I. Recent developments and prospects in the euro area	25
Growth slowed in 1998 but has regained strength since	25
Employment has become more responsive to output growth, but unemployment is still very high	33
Inflation has troughed and is picking up	37
Near-term prospects	40
II. Monetary policy and financial stability	47
Accommodative monetary conditions	47
Gaining experience with the new rules	55
Remaining monetary transmission asymmetries	63
The spreading usage of the euro	64
Financial fragilities and supervision	67
III. Fiscal policy in the short and longer run	73
Stability and convergence programmes: first generation and updates	73
The fiscal stance: gradual tightening to provide room for the automatic stabilisers	76
Medium and long-run fiscal challenges: working down high debts and coping with ageing	83
IV. Market structure and macroeconomic performance	87
The sources of growth in the euro area	88
Institutions and the transmission of shocks	94
Macro policies in the presence of market rigidities	104
Market integration, structural reform and the role of EMU	120
Notes	126
Glossary of acronyms	136
Bibliography	137
Annexes
I. The machinery of policy-making	151
II. Enlargement	155
III. The mergers and acquisitions boom	157
IV. Institutions and the transmission mechanism: analytical framework	160
V. Institutions and structural policies	166
VI. The width of intra-European borders	179
Annex notes	183

Boxes

1. Shifting to ESA 95: national accounts in transition	27
2. Developments in the "outs"	43
3. Operational framework: a smooth transition	56
4. Core inflation: an elusive measure	60
5. Residual market segmentation in the financial sector	65
6. Remote banking, branching and staffing, and "e-money"	68
7. EU finances through 2006	74
8. By-passing the 3 per cent deficit constraint	81
9. EU policies to enhance competition in the product market	100
10. Empirical evidence on wage adjustment and unemployment persistence	105
11. Could aggregation be misleading?	109
12. The co-ordination of employment policy at the EU level	125

Annex

A1. Market imperfections, market power and the role of regulation	175
---	-----

Tables

1. Euro area balance of payments	32
2. Outcomes and outlook for the euro area	41
3. Credit and asset prices	54
4. Growth and fiscal projections in the stability and convergence programmes	75
5. Euro area fiscal indicators	79
6. Sources of growth in real GDP per capita	89
7. Levels of productivity and GDP per head in the EU	91
8. Participation and employment rates in the last three decades	92
9. Indicators of labour market regulations and institutions	98
10. Indicators of product market regulation	103
11. System estimates of wage equation	107
12. Labour market segmentation and the unemployment-inflation trade-off	116
13. Unemployment rate dispersion and the area-wide inflation rate	116
14. System estimates of Phillips curves	119

Annexes

A1. EU accession candidates	156
A2. Notifications and decisions under the Merger Regulation	159
A3. Synopsis of studies on the link between institutions and performance	168
A4. Factors contributing to the decline in labour hoarding	177
A5. Consumption and output growth correlations	181

Figures

1. Supply	26
2. GDP dispersion	28
3. Demand	30
4. Stock markets	31
5. Foreign trade	31
6. Competitiveness	33
7. Employment	34

8.	Unemployment	36
9.	Labour costs	37
10.	Inflation	38
11.	Inflation and output gap	39
12.	Confidence	40
13.	Developments in the "outs"	44
14.	Bilateral exchange rates	49
15.	Cyclical divergence and the $/€ exchange rate	50
16.	Interest rates	51
17.	Monetary conditions	53
18.	Credit	54
19.	Monetary aggregates	55
20.	Government expenditure, revenue and net lending	77
21.	Public debt	78
22.	Projected structural fiscal balance for 2001	82
23.	Dependency ratios	84
24.	Employment rate of older workers	84
25.	Participation and employment rates by age and gender	93
26.	Ratio of real wage to labour productivity	95
27.	Employment and real unit labour costs	96
28.	Taxonomy of economic and administrative regulations	102
29.	Volatility of output growth and inflation	113
30.	Dispersion of unemployment rates	118
Annexes
A1.	Economic policy-making cycles	152
A2.	M&A activity	158
A3.	Wedge between real producer wage and take-home pay	172
A4.	Labour hoarding and underlying determinants	176