

Contents

List of Tables	viii
List of Figures	ix
Acknowledgements	x
Foreword Paul Gilroy	xi
Introduction Racism : Further notes from the underground Barnor Hesse	xiv
 Part 1 : Contextuality
1 Racial harassment and 1980s Waltham Forest Barnor Hesse and Christine Bennett	3
1981 : The year of belated recognition	4
The Khan Family massacre	9
A day in the death of Winston Rose	16
1982-1984 : An uncertain interim	19
1985 : The burning of the houses	22
1986-1989 : A glimmer of hope?	38
Looking for a provisional pattern	45
2 Policy analysis : The local police Barnor Hesse and Paul McGilchrist	48
Incremental or incoherent policy making?	49
Shifting emphases	56
Waltham Forest police/community experiences: The evidence	61
The status of racial harassment as a crime	70
Legal-organizational constraints	73
Measuring police performance	77
An analysis of police divisional policies	81
Facing the future	88

3	Policy analysis : The local Council	91
	Barnor Hesse and Dhanwant K. Rai with the assistance of Paul McGilchrist and Masood Lone
	The local government context	92
	Council words evade action	94
	The corporate profile	99
	The Council fails expectations	114
	Current Council policy dilemmas	120
	Towards contextual action	122
	 Part 2 : Cartography
4	Racial harassment : A spatial analysis	127
	Barnor Hesse with the assistance of Christine Bennett and Paul McGilchrist
	Below the incidence level	128
	The relevance of local statistics	132
	The concept of spread	134
	Understanding dispersion	136
	Understanding entrenchment	143
	Places of racial harassment	145
	Returning to the incidence of racial harassment	150
	Racial harassment and spatial analysis	155
5	Racial victimization : An experiential analysis	158
	Dhanwant K. Rai and Barnor Hesse
	Crime surveys, research and racial victimization	159
	The problem of victimology	162
	Geography and victimization	165
	Racial victimization scenarios	173
	The relevance of local agencies	178
	Service provisions to victims of crime	182
	Mapping victims rights	189
	(Neglected) needs of the victims of racial harassment	193

Conclusion	Towards a theory of safety	196
	Barnor Hesse, Paul McGilchrist, Dhanwant K. Rai and Christine Bennett
	The multi-agency approach	197
	Model for policy co-operation in local practices	199
	A spatial approach to tackling racial harassment	201
	Social dehumanization and the question of safety	207
Appendix 1	The London Borough of Waltham Forest	211
Appendix 2	A note on research and methodology	221
Appendix 3	Oral and written evidence	226
Appendix 4	Recommendations arising from the inquiry into racial harassment	229
Appendix 5	Waltham Forest racial incidents panel	238
Bibliography		243
Index		251

List of Tables

2.1	Recorded racial incidents in the Metropolitan police area, 1982-1989	55
2.2	Numbers of recorded racial incidents in Metropolitan police Area No. 1 during 1986-1989	58
2.3	Numbers and percentage of arrests and clear-ups of racial incidents in Chingford and Leyton police divisions, 1987-1989	79
4.1	Number of incidents/cases of racial harassment recorded by the police and Housing department in Waltham Forest, 1986-1989	133
4.2	Number and percentage distribution of racial incidents recorded in Waltham Forest's Leyton and Chingford police divisions during 1986-1989	139
4.3A	Number and percentage of recorded households reporting racial harassment to the Housing department in the years 1986-1989, across the Parliamentary constituencies in Waltham Forest	141
4.3B	Number and percentage distribution of recorded households reporting racial harassment across electoral wards, over the period 1986-1989	142
4.4A	Percentage of incidents of racial harassment on estates recorded by the Housing department, 1985-1988	147
4.4B	Five estates with highest percentage concentration of incidents of racial harassment recorded by the Housing department, 1985-1988	148
4.5	Asian, Black and Ethnic Minority experiences of racial harassment on high rise estates in Waltham Forest	149
4.6	The most frequently reported racially motivated incidents to the police nationally and the places of their occurrence	153
4.7	Number and percentage distribution of types of racial harassment in Chingford and Leyton police divisions in Waltham Forest during 1987 and 1988	155
A1.1	Total population of Waltham Forest	214

List of Figures

2.1	Dimensions in police/public 'negotiation' in the recording of racial harassment as a crime	72
2.2A	Leyton divisional objectives regarding racial harassment, 1986-1989	82
2.2B	Chingford divisional objectives regarding racial harassment, 1986-1989	83
2.3	Model of a police divisional objective in relation to racial harassment and a criteria of assessment	87
3.1	The constraints imposed by the Housing allocations policy on the transfer of racial harassment victims	102
4.1A	Spread of incidents of racial harassment in Parliamentary constituencies shown as a proportion of the Borough	137
4.1B	Spread of incidents of racial harassment in electoral wards shown as a proportion of the Borough	137
4.2	The main electoral ward locations of racial harassment in each Parliamentary constituency in Waltham Forest	145
4.3	Percentage distribution of places of racial harassment - the top five references	146
4.4	Main categories of racial harassment incidents recorded by the Housing department, 1986-1988	151
4.5	Main categories of racial harassment arising from the CRC's anecdotal survey, compared with overall evidence to the Inquiry	151
5.1	Needs of the victims of racial harassment	194
6.1	Agenda for policy co-operation against racial harassment	201
6.2	Racial harassment incidents in a spatial context	203
A1.1	Local government boundaries in Waltham Forest	212
A1.2	Map showing wards in Waltham Forest	213
A1.3	Map of Chingford and Leyton police divisions showing Home Beat boundaries	219
A2.1	Council Panel of Inquiry, 1988-1990	222
A2.2	Inquiry's terms of reference	222