

Contents

Foreword ix

Preface xi

1. The United States versus You	1
2. The Explosion of White-Collar Crime Prosecutions (Why Pharisees Get Convicted and Publicans Get Acquitted)	4
Why Pharisees Get Convicted: White-Collar Jeopardy	5
Why Pursue White Collars?	9
Prosecutorial Interests	12
Public Encouragements	13
More Conquests, More Cases	14
The Consequences	15
Reading the Signs of the Times	18
3. It's the Law: How Elastic Laws Can Stretch to Make Criminals of Us All	19
4. "Are You John Fletcher?" On the Importance of Being Prepared	35
5. Entrepreneur Beware: The Strange Case of Dakota Cheese	51
The Making of an Entrepreneur	52
The Wrong Customer for a Better Mousetrap	54

The Entrepreneurial Personality and Its Dangers	54
I Can Read	56
The Smoke Gets in Your Eyes	58
A Critical Visit	59
Prosecution Forthwith	60
Trial Strategy	62
Did I Say That?	63
Weak Case, Light Sentence	64
Some Rules of the Game	65

6. Caveat Employer: Spotting Criminal Risks in Your Organization 67

Some Critical Caveats	72
-----------------------	----

7. Beware of the Convergence of "Hot Spots" and Blind Spots: You May Get Burned 84

"Hot Spots"	87
Bank Robber and Banker-Robbers?	90
It's the Pits	94
Of Means and Ends	96
Heads Up	98

8. The Internal Investigation: When the Best Defense Is a Good Prosecution 100

Who Should Do the Investigation?	101
Can One Preserve the Secrecy of the Investigation?	102
How Can One Control the Rumor Mill?	103
Doing the Interviews	104
Be Prepared	105
Prescribing Therapy	107
The Lawyer as Prosecutor Pro Tem	109

9. Repent or Perish: Why Confession May Be Good for You 110

10. The Grand Jury: An Invitation from Torquemada 119

The Theory of the Grand Jury	122
The Reality of the Grand Jury	124
Torquemada's Inducements	126
Some Reasons for Caution	127
The Bamboo Splints, Please	130

Who's Who in the Grand Jury Room	131
Some Suggestions	132
A Concluding Lament	136
11. Parallel Investigations	138
Did You Ever Have to Make up Your Mind?	143
Some Suggestions	149
12. Trial by Jury: Are These Your Peers?	150
The Defendant's Best Friend?	152
Persuading the Peers	156
Bad Attitudes and "Be-Attitudes"	161
Speak English	162
To Plead or Not to Plead	163
13. Crime and Punishment: Do White-Collar "Criminals" Get Lenient Sentences?	166
Throwing Away the Key	168
Things Could Be Worse	171
At Whose Discretion?	173
14. The Public Relations Problem: What Does One Say?	175
Talk in Haste; Repent at Leisure	178
Gasoline on the Fire	179
Manager or Managee?	182
Some Guidelines	184
For Further Reading	185
15. The Race Is Not Always to the Swift	187
16. "How I Love the Law"	204
Index	208