

Boxes

Moral hazard and adverse selection	29
The Administration's "Comprehensive health reform plan"	42
Health-care reform: the Garamendi proposal	46

Tables

Text

1. Growth in total health-care expenditure	9
2. Components of total health-care expenditure	10
3. Health-care spending by category	10
4. Growth in price and volume of total health-care expenditures	11
5. Payers of personal health-care expenditures	15
6. Health-care expenditures: an international comparison	21
7. Characteristics of the uninsured, 1990	37

Diagrams

1. Relative inflation rate of prescription drugs	12
2. Compensation of health-care providers	13
3. Government health-care expenditures	16
4. Health-care expenditures and GDP: 1990	17
5. Per-capita health-care expenditures in the seven largest OECD countries	19
6. Health-care expenditures of the seven largest OECD countries	20
7. OECD health-care expenditures as a percentage of GDP	22
8. Where the money goes	23
9. Purchasing power parity medical-care prices: 1990	24
10. Volume of health-care: 1990	25
11. Health-care expenditures and the number of physicians per capita	26
12. Health-care expenditures and physician compensation	27

Table of contents

Introduction	7
I. The rising cost of health care	9
Trends in health-care expenditures	9
Public-sector health-care expenditures	14
A comparison with other OECD countries	18
Sources of cost pressures	26
II. Access to health care	35
III. Health-policy reform	41
Containing costs	43
Improving access	48
IV. Conclusions	53
Notes	56
References	59
Annex
An overview of health-care financing in selected OECD countries	62
Statistical annex	71