

Contents

Preface	ix
Preface to the second edition	xi
1 Introduction	1
1.1 The public sector planning process	3
1.2 The Citizen's Charter	10
1.3 The Financial Management Initiative	12
1.4 The National Health Service	14
1.5 Local government	19
1.6 The nationalized industries and public corporations	23
1.7 Summary	25
1.8 Conclusion	26
1.9 Appendix 1.1: summary of the supply process	26
2 Operational and service-based costing	29
2.1 The use of costs in efficiency and value-for-money studies	30
2.2. Unit cost statements	32
2.3 The measurement and control of overheads	36
2.4 The advantages of full apportionment	37
2.5 Criticisms of apportionment	39
2.6 An example of overhead recovery	42
2.7 Some applications within the NHS	44
2.8 Summary	45
Questions	50
3 Cost variability and relevant costs	55
3.1 Cost classification by behaviour	55
3.2 Revenue and contribution	58
3.3 The importance of cost behaviour	60
3.4 Problems relating to the cost behaviour approach	64
3.5 Incremental analysis using relevant costs	66
3.6 Relevant costs and the 1990s	68
3.7 Costing and survival	70

3.8	Summary	70
	Questions	71
4	Budgeting	83
4.1	The objectives of annual budget preparation	83
4.2	Approaches to the budgetary process	86
4.3	The bid system	87
4.4	Financial planning systems	90
4.5	Planning programming budgeting systems (PPBs)	92
4.6	Zero-based budgeting (ZBB)	95
4.7	Formula funding	97
4.8	A practical approach to budgeting	99
4.9	Budgeting in a competitive environment	103
4.10	Summary	113
	Questions	114
5	Budgetary control	127
5.1	Essentials of a system of budgetary control	128
5.2	Commitment accounting	129
5.3	Expenditure profiling	130
5.4	Virement	130
5.5	Supplementary estimates	132
5.6	Reports	132
5.7	Controlling central government expenditure	133
5.8	Flexible budgeting and performance measurement	137
5.9	Control by standards	139
5.10	Examination of variances	142
5.11	Control of fixed overheads	145
5.12	Control of capital programmes	146
5.13	Human aspects of budgetary control	147
5.14	Summary	148
	Questions	149
6	The management of working capital	157
6.1	Treasury management	158
6.2	Cash management	159
6.3	Bank reconciliation	162
6.4	Transfer of money	163
6.5	Alternative investment instruments	164
6.6	Borrowing	165
6.7	The practice of investment management	165
6.8	Management of debtors	166
6.9	Management of creditors	168
6.10	Management of stock	170
6.11	Summary	172
	Questions	173
7	The financing of capital expenditure	181
7.1	The central objective in capital financing	181
7.2	Financing from revenue	182
7.3	Financing by borrowing	185
7.4	Financing from reserves	186

7.5	Financing by leasing	187
7.6	Capital expenditure controls and local authorities	190
7.7	Capital expenditure controls and the National Health Service	191
7.8	Special topic 1: Setting a borrowing strategy	192
7.9	Special topic 2: A property leaseback deal	197
7.10	Special topic 3: Derivatives	198
7.11	Summary	201
	Questions	201
8	Capital budgets and capital programmes	205
8.1	The definition of capital expenditure	206
8.2	The generation of new projects	207
8.3	The multi-year capital programme	209
8.4	Detailed project appraisal	210
8.5	The administrative ranking of projects	214
8.6	Summary	216
	Questions	220
9	Project appraisal	227
9.1	Discounted cash flow	228
9.2	Ranking projects	230
9.3	Risk and uncertainty	230
9.4	The cost of capital	231
9.5	Inflation	232
9.6	Other techniques of investment appraisal	234
9.7	Cost-benefit analysis	234
9.8	Cost-effectiveness analysis	238
9.9	Summary	241
	Questions	245
10	The audit of public sector organizations	253
10.1	The audit of central government	254
10.2	The Health Service	256
10.3	Local government	257
10.4	The public corporations	259
10.5	Value-for-money auditing	260
10.6	Sources of value-for-money studies	261
10.7	Undertaking a value-for-money study	262
10.8	Effectiveness auditing	263
10.9	Summary	264
	Questions	268
	Appendix: Present value of 1	272
11	Case Studies	275
	References	291
	Further reading	293
	Index	295