

CONTENTS

Series Editor's Introduction	vii
Preface	ix
1. Basic Concepts and Approaches	1
The Need for Prevention	1
What Is Prevention?	2
Conceptual Approaches to Primary Prevention	3
Secondary Prevention	5
Difficulties in Doing Prevention	6
Prevention Programs in Schools	11
Plan of the Book	15
Summary	16
2. Prevention of Behavioral and Social Problems	17
The Need for Preventive Services	17
Primary Prevention	18
Secondary Prevention	25
Overview of Primary and Secondary Prevention	32
Summary	33
3. Substance Use	35
Scope of the Problem	35
Drug Programs in Schools	35
A Brief History of Research on Drug Programs	36
Contemporary Psychosocial Programs	37
Summary	41

4. Prevention of Academic Problems	43
Extent of the Problem	43
Who Is at Risk?	43
Importance of Early Intervention	44
Early Childhood Programs	45
Interventions at the Elementary Level	49
Secondary Prevention of Learning Problems	52
Classroom and School Factors	54
Summary	56
5. Health Education	59
Need and Rationale for Health Education	59
Impact of Health Education	60
Methodological Issues	65
Sex and AIDS Education	66
Pregnancy Prevention	67
Summary	68
6. Program Diffusion	71
Factors Affecting Program Diffusion	72
Importance of Program Implementation	74
The Fantasy of Untreated Control Groups	76
Summary	77
7. Current Status and Future Directions	79
General Conclusions	79
Basic Research Issues	85
Final Observations	91
Summary	95
Appendix: A Primer on Effect Sizes	97
References	99
Name Index	110
Subject Index	113
About the Author	117