

Contents

List of tables	ix
Preface	xi
Acknowledgements	xv
1 Introduction: the feminist critique of mainstream sociology and the way forward	1
The sociological imagination	3
Feminist critiques of conventional sociology	4
The ideology of masculinity and femininity	6
A sociology for women: the way forward	8
Integration	8
Separatism	9
Reconceptualization	9
Feminist sociology	10
Feminist perspectives	11
Women as a social class	13
Conclusions	14
2 Women and stratification	16
Malestream theories of social class	17
Neo-Weberian theories of social class	17
Neo-Marxist theories	17
Feminist criticisms	18
The class system in Britain	19
Women in class theory	20
Women and social mobility	23
Intergenerational occupational mobility	25
Intragenerational occupational mobility	27
Conclusions: women's mobility	29
Measuring women's social class	30
The 'Surrey occupational class scale'	32
The 'City University classification'	33

Conclusions: social class	34
Black women in Britain	35
Women in the Third World	40
Conclusions	45
3 Girls and young women	47
Childhood	47
Educating girls	49
Girls' educational achievement	51
The history of education for girls	52
Explaining girls' continued disadvantage	55
Feminist perspectives on education	59
Liberal feminists	59
Radical feminist analyses of schooling	59
Marxist and socialist feminist perspectives	60
Black feminist perspectives on education	63
Adolescence	65
Adolescent rebels?	65
Girls in teenage culture	66
Young women entering work	68
Conclusions	72
4 The family and the household	73
Sociological perspectives on the family	74
The symmetrical family	74
Feminist approaches to the family	75
Industrialization, the family, and the origins of the family wage	76
Women's experience of family life	79
Familial ideology	81
The diversity of family forms	83
Power and the division of labour in families	85
The division of labour in the home	86
Motherhood and mothering	88
Black women and families	91
Sexuality	91
5 Women, health, and caring	94
Women and medicine	95
Women and health inequalities	97
Iatrogenic medicine	102
Gender: power and medicine	105
Medical images of women	105
Women, medicine, and reproduction	107

Women as providers of health care	111
Women as healers, men as professionals	111
Nurses, midwives, and medical men	114
Women, motherhood, and 'informal' care	118
6 Women's work	121
The sexual division of labour	121
A history of women and employment	123
Domestic labour	126
Explaining the division of labour in the domestic sphere	128
Women's unpaid 'caring' work	129
Women and paid employment	131
Women's orientation to work	135
Women's pay	136
Occupational segmentation	137
Women in employment	140
Women factory workers	140
Women and clerical work	142
Women in the professions and as managers	143
Women and unemployment	145
Explanations of women's position in the labour market	146
Women's dual role	146
The dual labour market	146
Marxist feminist explanations	147
Radical feminist explanations	148
Socialist feminist explanations	148
Conclusions	149
7 Women, crime, and deviance	151
Explaining crime – women as criminals	151
Women and crime – the evidence	153
The need for feminist theory	159
Feminist theories of crime	160
Disorganization theory	162
Differential association	163
Critical (Marxist) criminology	164
Labelling theory	165
Social control theory	167
Radical feminists	169
Crimes against women	169
Rape	172
Assaults on wives	176
Women, violence, and male power	179
Conclusions	182

8 Women and politics	184
Women and voting studies	185
Defining feminist politics	188
Feminist politics	190
Gender politics	193
Women and the welfare state	196
Women, family, and caring	196
Women and poverty	198
Conclusions	201
9 The production of feminist knowledge	202
Collecting feminist evidence	204
Feminist empiricism	208
'The feminist standpoint'	210
Feminist relativism	211
Feminist theories	212
Liberal/reformist feminist theory	212
Marxist feminism	214
Radical/revolutionary feminist theory	217
Socialist feminism	220
The adequacy of feminist theories	223
Conclusions	225
References and further reading	227
Author index	245
Subject index	249

Tables

2.1	Male occupational mobility in the 'Oxford mobility study'	26
2.2	Occupational mobility of employed women in the 'People in society' survey	27
3.1	Education and economic activities of 16-year-olds in 1982 and 1986	50
3.2	School-leavers: highest qualification by sex, 1985/6	50
3.3	Full-time students (000s) in 1985-6: educational sector	51
3.4	Higher education qualifications obtained in 1985, by subject group	52
3.5	Male and female nursery and primary school teachers in England and Wales, 1978	56
5.1	Social class, gender, and GP (NHS) consultations in Great Britain, 1980	98
5.2	Ratio of symptoms noted at consultations with medical practitioners	100
6.1	Proportions of men and women in employment in 1986, by age	132
6.2	Economic status of the female population of working age in 1984-6, by ethnic group	133
6.3	Job levels of white, West Indian, and Asian women in 1982	133
6.4	Gross weekly earnings of full-time employees in 1986, in pounds	137
6.5	Sexual divisions within the superstore labour force (numbers)	138
6.6	Occupations in which 90 per cent of the employees are of one gender	139
7.1	Persons sentenced for indictable offences in 1986, by sex and age, in England and Wales	154

7.2	Offenders found guilty of indictable offences at all courts in England and Wales in 1986, by sex and type of offence – percentages by gender	155
7.3	Offenders found guilty of theft offences in all courts in England and Wales in 1986, by sex and type of offence	156
7.4	Offenders found guilty at all courts in England and Wales, by sex and type of offence, 1977-86	157
7.5	Self-report of delinquent acts and offences committed by girls in research by Shaklady Smith	166