

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
------------------	-----

1. Introduction: Localized technological change. A survey and critique	1
--	---

PART ONE

2. Adjustment costs: Switching versus innovating	19
3. The dynamics of localized technological change. A model incorporating switching costs and R&D expenditures with endowment advantages	27
4. Localized technological change demand pull and productivity growth. A microeconomic model with adjustment costs	43
5. The diffusion of localized technological changes	53
6. Productivity growth and the diffusion of new technological systems. The case of new information technology	74

PART TWO

7. Localized technological change and industrial organization	91
8. Localized technological change, technical diversity and global market dynamics	99
9. Diversification versus specialization: Generic and localized knowledge	107

10. Networks: Variety and complementarity	125
11. The dynamics of networks	135
12. Conclusions	152
 Bibliography	 167
 Index	 177