CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction: what is social capital and why
does it matter?	1
How do networks make things happen?	2
Norms and networks in classical social theory	5
Interest in social capital	7
Aims of the book	9
1 From metaphor to concept	11
Bourdieu	13
Coleman	20
Putnam	29
What have the social capital classics added?	40
2 Exploring the power of networks	44
Social capital and education	45
Connections in the economy	50
Benefits for health and well-being	57
Crime and deviancy	60
Refining the concept: reciprocity and trust	62
Towards a differentiated conception	65
3 A walk on the dark side	71
Social capital and inequality	74
The perverse effects of social capital	82
Social capital's dark side	89
4 Social capital in a (post)modern world	91
Active democratic citizenship	93
Atomised connections in cyberspace	101
The end of communism	106
Family and intimate ties	109
Social capital in risk society: flexible friends?	112

VI CONTENTS

5 Social capital as policy Why develop policies for social capital? Measuring social capital	115 117 123
		Operationalising policies for social capital	126
		Can governments create social capital?	134
Conclusion	136
References	146
Index	161		