

Contents

---

Contributors	ix
Foreword and introduction Andrew Hiles	xi
Introduction: how to read this book Peter Barnes	xvii
Section One Achieving and maintaining business continuity: an executive overview
1 What are we planning for? Geert Vancoppenolle	3
2 What is a Business Continuity Planning strategy? Michael O'Hehir	25
3 A crisis management perspective of business continuity Robert Heath	43
4 Multilateral Continuity Planning Dennis Hamilton	55
5 Marketing Protection: a justification for funding of Total Asset Protection programmes? Andrew Hiles	67
6 Why have a disaster if you don't have to? Peter Humpidge	75
Section Two Planning for business continuity: a "how-to" guide
7 The business continuity planning methodology Malcolm Cornish	93
8 Project initiation and management Jayne Howe	107

9	Risk evaluation and control:I Alan Craig	123
	Risk evaluation and control:II Practical guide lines for risk assessment Ian Charters	131
10	Business Impact Analysis William Meredith	139
11	Developing BC strategies for the business or work areas Neal Courtney	151
12	BC strategies for manufacturing and logistics Melvyn Musson	163
13	BC strategies for communications Paul Kirvan	171
14	Emergency response and operations Gregg Beatty	179
15	Developing and implementing the written plan Andrew Hiles	195
	Annex 15.1: Example of contents pages from a business continuity plan	207
	Annex 15.2: Example of a working draft—media and PR team plan	215
16	Awareness through auditing, training and testing Thomas Doemland	231
17	Maintaining and exercising BC plans Tim Armit and Simon Marvell	247
18	Selecting the tools to support the process Lyndon Bird	263
19	Coping with people in recovery Allen Johnson	279
20	The missing elements Andrew Hiles	289
Appendices
1	Case Studies	295
	An introduction to the case study section	295
	A Storm, earthquake, explosion—a general overview	296

---

B	Living nightmares—some apocryphal tales	299
C	World Trade Center Explosion—New York City, USA— 26 February 1993	301
D	Hurricane Andrew—Miami, USA—24 August 1992	304
E	Chicago Floods, USA—13 April 1992	306
F	Thirty seconds of terror!—California, USA—17 January 1994	308
G	After the fire—First Interstate Bank, Los Angeles, USA— 4 May 1988	311
H	One Meridian Plaza fire—Philadelphia, USA— 23 February 1991	313
I	The Mercantile fire—Basingstoke, UK—16 April 1991	317
J	How floods can ruin your day—The London College of Printing —October 1989	321
K	Flood highlights	323
L	A cautionary tale—Union Bank of Finland— 9 and 17 December 1991	324
M	It happened to them—theft and fire—Bermondsey, London, UK —4 November 1993	326
N	Fire highlights	328
O	Wessex Regional Health Authority, UK—April 1991	330
P	The Bishopgate bomb, London, UK—25 April 1993	332
Q	City bomb blast—St Mary Axe, London, UK—10 April 1992	335
R	Explosion roundup	337
S	Stop thief!	338
T	Miscellaneous highlights	340
U	Lessons in Risk Management from the Auckland Power Crisis	342
2	General Guideline Notes	353
A	Risk: a process approach	353
B	Back-up or be backed into a corner	355
C	The role of insurance	357

---

D	What the year 2000 means for business continuity professionals	359
E	Consultancy without tears	361
F	Financing business continuity: why is it a problem?	363
G	Protecting data: where did it go?	366
3	Certification standards for Business Continuity Practitioners	367
4	Useful international contacts	371
5	About Survive! The Business Continuity Group	377
	Glossary	379
	Index	385