

Acknowledgements	xiv
Preface	xv

PART I PERSPECTIVES AND ENQUIRY

1. Historical influences and research methodology	3
Learning outcomes	2
Introduction	4
Nature of psychological perspective	4
Different approaches	4
Nature of organisational behaviour	5
Historical perspective	6
Scientific management	6
Classical bureaucracy	7
Principles of organisation	8
Early industrial psychology in the UK	8
Human relations movement	10
Neo-human relations	12
Systems approach	13
Contingency approach	13
Contemporary issues	13
Research methodology	15
Characteristics of the scientific method	16
Techniques and settings	17
Ethical issues	21
Framework and issues	22
Chapter summary	22
Questions	23
Spotlight on relevant reading	23

PART II THE INDIVIDUAL

2. Personality	27
Learning outcomes	26
Definition	28
Idiographic and nomothetic approaches	28
Idiographic approach	28
Nomothetic approach	29
Psychoanalytical perspective	29
Levels of awareness	29
Structure of personality	30
Defence mechanisms	31
Personality development	32
Other explanations	33
Projective tests	35
Rorschach Test	35
Thematic Apperception Test	36
Role playing or visualisation	36
Stereotyping	37
Trait and type perspectives	38
Traits	38
Types	40
Personality and consumer behaviour	48
Personality types and accidents	48
Interpersonal perspective	50
Self-concept	50
Personal construct theory	51
Behavioural perspective	54
Reinforcement	54
Imitation	56
Socialisation	56
Situational variables	57
Cognitive perspective	58
Internal–external locus of control	58

Self-efficacy	60
Self-monitoring	60
Sensation-seeking	60
Field dependency–independency	61
Personality assessment	62
Chapter summary	63
Questions	64
Spotlight on relevant reading	64
3. Intelligence and psychological testing	67
Learning outcomes	66
Introduction	68
Models of intelligence	68
Factorial approach	68
Information-processing models	70
Mediating influences: Heredity, age, gender	72
Psychological testing	74
Intelligence tests	74
Achievement and aptitude tests	76
Personality tests	78
Chapter summary	86
Questions	87
Spotlight on relevant reading	87
4. Motivation and job design	89
Learning outcomes	88
Definition	90
Needs	90
Motives	90
Drives	90
Arousal and emotion	90
Goals or incentives	91
Frustration	92
Need theories	92
Hierarchy of needs	93
ERG theory	95
Achievement motivation	96
Dual-factor theory	98
Theory X and theory Y	101
Cognitive theories	101
Goal-setting	102
Self-efficacy	105
Expectancy theory	107
Equity theory	110
Integration of motivation theories	112
Control theory of motivation	112

Social identity perspective	114
Problems with motivation	116
Boredom	116
Rest pauses	117
Culture and motivation	117
Job design	118
Job specialisation	118
Job rotation	119
Job enlargement	119
Job enrichment	119
The job characteristics model (JCM)	121
Groups and job design	123
New technology and job design	125
Further perspectives on job design	127
Chapter summary	130
Questions	131
Spotlight on relevant reading	131
5. Perception	133
Learning outcomes	132
Stimulus	134
The senses	136
Vision	136
Hearing	140
Other senses	141
Kinaesthesia	142
Vestibular	143
Overview	143
Extra-sensory perception	143
Attention (selective perception)	144
External physical stimuli	144
Absolute and differential thresholds	148
Disposition of the perceiver	149
Perceptual organisation	151
Ambiguous figures	151
Figure/background	151
Gestalt laws of organisation	153
Constancy	155
Illusions	156
Applications of perceptual organisation	158
Perceptual interpretation	159
Person perception	160
Misinterpretations	160
Impression management	163
Attribution theory	164

Chapter summary	168
Questions	168
Spotlight on relevant reading	169
6. Communication	171
Learning outcomes	170
Introduction	172
Ways of communicating	172
Oral and written communication	172
Nonverbal communication	172
Information and communication technology (ICT)	173
Communication networks	175
Communication as transactions	176
Analysis of transactions	177
Communication cycle	178
FIDO	178
Communication barriers	179
Inability to think clearly	179
Encoding difficulties	179
Noise	180
Selectivity	180
The bruised ego	180
Environmental factors	180
Incomplete feedback	181
Rumour	181
Communication problems	181
Improving communication	182
Team briefing	183
Storytelling	183
Important communication skills	184
Active listening	184
Feedback skills	185
Chapter summary	186
Questions	186
Spotlight on relevant reading	187
7. Learning and memory	189
Learning outcomes	188
Learning	190
Classical conditioning	190
Unconditioned and conditioned stimuli	190
Generalisation	192
Emotional reactions	192
Discrimination	193
Operant conditioning	194
Reinforcement	194

Punishment	196
Schedules of reinforcement	197
Programmed learning	199
Linear programming	199
Branching	200
Behaviour modification	200
Shaping	200
Modelling	201
Organisational behaviour modification	202
Relevance of social learning theory	206
Cognitive learning	206
Insight learning	207
Latent learning	207
Skills acquisition	207
Memory	208
Short-term memory	209
Long-term memory	209
Working memory	210
Encode or process	210
Store or retain	212
Retrieval	214
Recall	215
Effects of ageing	217
Postscript	218
Transfer of learning (training)	218
Transfer	218
Personal and organisational influences	219
Knowledge management	220
The learning organisation	222
Chapter summary	224
Questions	225
Spotlight on relevant reading	225
8. Information-processing and individual decision making	227
Learning outcomes	226
Information-processing	228
Approaches to information-processing	228
Lens model	228
Cognitive approach	229
Process tracing approach	230
Decision making	232
Decision cycle	233
Econological model	235

Bounded rationality model	236
Implicit favourite model	240
Decision making under conditions of uncertainty	241
Negotiation	242
Other issues	244
Decision-support systems	248
Individual and organisational influences	249
Personality and cognitive style	249
Creativity and innovation	253
Chapter summary	261
Questions	262
Spotlight on relevant reading	262

9. Attitudes, values, job satisfaction, and commitment	265
Learning outcomes	264
Definition	266
Values	267
Work ethic	268
Business ethics	268
Attitude formation	270
Functions of attitudes	272
Instrumental or adjustive function	272
Ego defensive function	272
Expressive function	273
Knowledge function	273
Prejudice	273
Influence of personality, beliefs, and culture	274
Influence of the group	276
Ways of reducing prejudice	276
Attitude change	276
Sources of attitude change	277
Factors contributing to attitude change	277
Balance and consistency	285
Consistency theories	285
Attitude measurement	288
Thurstone scale	289
Likert scale	290
Osgood's semantic differential	291
Sociometry	291
Reliability and validity	292
Attitudes and behaviour	292
Planned behaviour	292
Alternative viewpoint	294

Job satisfaction	295
Emotion	296
Causes of job satisfaction	297
Measuring job satisfaction	297
Consequences of job satisfaction	299
Job dissatisfaction	301
Organisational commitment	302
Chapter summary	304
Questions	305
Spotlight on relevant reading	305

PART III THE GROUP

10. Groups	309
Learning outcomes	308
Definition	310
Types of groups	310
Formal or informal	310
Primary or secondary	310
Co-acting	310
Counteracting	310
Reference	311
Characteristics of groups	311
Norms	311
Cohesiveness	312
Communication and interaction	314
Structural factors	317
Group dynamics	323
Reasons for joining groups	323
Group processes	324
Reference groups	324
Social comparison	325
Co-action and affiliation	329
Social control	331
Decision making	332
Effective groups	342
Inter-group behaviour	342
Chapter summary	346
Questions	347
Spotlight on relevant reading	347
11. Teambuilding	349
Learning outcomes	348
Definition	350
Types of teams	350
Work teams	350
Management teams	350
Top management teams	350

Cross-functional teams	351
Venture teams	351
Quality circles	352
Self-managed teams	354
Affinity groups	354
Virtual teams	354
Teambuilding models	355
Models of group development	355
High-performance teams	358
Problems with teambuilding	359
Project teams	360
Management team development	361
Dyer's approach	361
Belbin's approach	362
Team management wheel	367
Diversity in teams	368
Leadership in teams	369
Effective team leadership	369
Contextual factors	371
Comment	372
Chapter summary	372
Questions	373
Spotlight on relevant reading	373
12. Leadership and management style	375
Learning outcomes	374
Leadership versus management	376
Traits, personal characteristics, and skills	376
Traits	376
Managerial talent	380
Skills	381
Behavioural style	381
Styles of leadership	382
Likert's four styles	383
Consideration and initiating structure	384
The leadership grid	385
Participative leadership	386
Macro participation	389
Contingency theories	390
Leadership continuum	391
The influence-power continuum	392
Fiedler's model	394
A normative model	396
Leader-member exchange (LMX) theory	401
Path-goal model	402

Hersey–Blanchard situational theory	404
Attribution perspective	405
Substitutes for leadership	406
Comment on situational leadership theory	406
Redefinition of leadership	407
Contemporary trends	407
Transformational leadership	407
Other important issues	415
Chapter summary	418
Questions	419
Spotlight on relevant reading	419
13. Power, politics, and conflict	421
Learning outcomes	420
Definition	422
Power	422
Bases of power	422
Other power categories	423
Applications of French and Raven's power bases	424
Power tactics	426
Reflections on power	429
Politics	431
Causes of political behaviour	432
Political techniques or tactics	433
Pros and cons of political behaviour	438
Ethics in organisational politics	438
Coping with political behaviour	438
Conflict	439
Types of conflict	440
Sources of conflict	442
Use of conflict	444
Management of conflict	444
Chapter summary	449
Questions	449
Spotlight on relevant reading	450

PART IV THE ORGANISATION

14. Organisational structure and design	453
Learning outcomes	452
Definition and common characteristics	454
Common goals	454

Typology	455
Metaphors	456
Formal and informal organisations	456
The nature of bureaucratic organisation	457
Weber's ideal bureaucracy	458
Principles of organisation	460
Structural groupings	464
Contingency factors	469
Environment	469
Technology	477
Strategic choice	482
New technology	484
Reflections on organisation theory	487
Postmodern organisation	487
New organisational patterns	488
Network organisation	489
Virtual organisation	490
Boundaryless organisation	491
Outsourcing	491
Downsizing and delayering	493
Team structure	495
The flexible firm	495
Just-in-time	497
Lean production systems	498
High-performance systems	498
Corporate governance and new organisational forms	501
Chapter summary	503
Questions	504
Spotlight on relevant reading	504

15. Organisational culture	507
Learning outcomes	506
Definition	508
Aspects of organisational culture	509
Rites and ceremonies	509
Stories	509
Symbols	509
Language	510
Types of culture	510
Culture versus climate	510
Dominant and sub-cultures	510
Strong versus weak cultures	511
Analysing culture	512
Harrison's four types	512
Ouchi's approach	512
Peters and Waterman's approach	514

Deal and Kennedy's approach	515
Other approaches	517
Changing and developing culture	518
Participation	519
Information from others	519
Symbolic action	519
Comprehensive reward systems	520
Organisational socialisation	521
Some contemporary issues	523
Ethics	523
Customer responsiveness	525
Spirituality	525
Learning organisation	525
Benefits of culture	526
Effective control	526
Normative order	526
Promotion of innovation	527
Strategy formulation and implementation	528
Employee commitment	528
International comparisons	529
Cross-cultural studies	530
Cultural diversity: Teams and leadership	533
Convergence or divergence?	534
Comment	535
Chapter summary	536
Questions	537
Spotlight on relevant reading	537

16. Organisational change and development	539
Learning outcomes	538
Organisational change	540
Models of change	540
Planning change	541
Implementing change	545
Resistance to change	547
Controlling resistance to change	549
Organisational development	552
Development techniques and interventions	553
Structure, culture, and learning organisation	553
Task redesign	554
Individual and group emphasis	555
Overall evaluation of organisational development	561

Appreciative inquiry	563
Chapter summary	564
Questions	565
Spotlight on relevant reading	565

PART V MANAGEMENT AND ORGANISATIONAL ISSUES

17. Human resource practices:

Selection and appraisal	569
Learning outcomes	568
Human resource management	570
Personnel selection	571
Job analysis	571
Selection methods	573
Fairness	582
Validity	583
Reliability	585
Utility	585
Performance management / appraisal	586
Goals of performance appraisal	586
Criteria for performance appraisal	587
Performance appraisal techniques	588
Administering the appraisal system	592
Use of appraisal information	595
Problems with appraisal	596
Chapter summary	602
Questions	603
Spotlight on relevant reading	604

18. Human resource practices:

Rewards, training, and development	607
Learning outcomes	606
Rewards	608
Purpose and philosophy	608
Determination of rewards	608
Advantages and disadvantages of job evaluation	610
External influences	610
Types of reward	611
Training and development	619
Learning and training	619
Skill acquisition	619

Learning curves	621
Training processes	622
National developments	622
Needs assessment	624
Training objectives	627
Training methods	627
Management development	632
Management competencies	633
Action learning	634
Assessment centres	634
Indoor/outdoor exercises	635
E-learning	636
Continuous development	637
Careers and career development	638
Evaluation of training and development	644
Chapter summary	647
Questions	648
Spotlight on relevant reading	648

19. Health and work: Stress 651

Learning outcomes	650
Definition	652
Physiological reactions	652
Cost of stress	653
Burnout	654
Post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD)	654
Stressors	656
Stress from within the organisation	656
Stress from within the individual, plus outside influences	664
Suggested remedies for stress	676
Cognitive strategies	676
Social support	679
Workplace counselling	681
Chapter summary	687
Questions	687
Spotlight on relevant reading	688

Glossary	689
-----------------	------------

References	706
-------------------	------------

Author index	761
---------------------	------------

Subject index	777
----------------------	------------