

Contents

---

The author	xi
Preface	xii
Acknowledgements	xiv
Introduction	xv
 Part One: Understanding People and Their Problems	 1
Introduction	1
What is a problem?	3
What is a 'people' problem?	4
All action is interaction	6
Problem identification	7
Motivation	8
Problems not puzzles	10
Promoting change	11
PRECISE practice	14
Problems and challenges	17
The problem-solving process	20
Problems and opportunities	23
Reflective practice	24
Operacy	27
Conclusion	28
 Part Two: Problem-Solving Methods	 31
Introduction	31
A note on working with children and adolescents	33

Avoiding avoidance – facing up to our responsibilities	33
Brokerage – redirecting people to sources of help	36
Capitalizing on crisis – realizing the potential of critical moments in a person's life	38
Chunk up or chunk down – finding the right level of analysis	41
The CIA framework – managing pressure and stress	43
Congruence – getting on the same wavelength	46
Consequences – exploring options and their likely outcomes	48
Cost-benefit analysis – balancing the pros and cons	51
Critical incident technique – learning from significant experiences	53
Doing the right things vs. doing things right – balancing efficiency and effectiveness	55
The drama triangle – avoiding being drawn into being a 'rescuer'	57
Eating an elephant – being realistic about what we can achieve	60
Eco maps – mapping out relationships across groups of people	62
Elegant challenging – being constructive in challenging unacceptable behaviour or language	65
Embedded whys – establishing reasons for our actions	68
The empty chair – exploring the influence of an absent person	70
Force-field analysis – managing change	72
Giving feedback – letting people know where they stand	75
Helicopter vision – obtaining an overview	78
Know your enemy – coping with anxiety	80
Making the most of meetings – avoiding time and energy being wasted	82
Mind mapping – developing a picture of the situation you are dealing with	86
Modelling and use of self – using yourself as a tool to help others	89
Naming the process – bringing hidden agendas out into the open	91
Not tolerating vagueness – avoiding the dangers of being too vague	94
Objectives tree – a framework for helping develop plans	97

Paint the toilets – making a fresh start	100
PCS analysis – understanding different levels of discrimination	102
Positive strokes – building confidence	105
Providing an anchor – providing security in times of instability	107
Pushing the buttons – acting as an advocate	109
REBT – understanding anger	111
The RED approach – managing conflict	114
Reframing – redefining problem situations to allow people to move forward	116
Recognizing grief – appreciating the significance of loss and grief	119
Responding to feelings – taking account of the emotional dimension	122
The right person for the job – matching skills and aptitudes to tasks	124
Risk assessment – analysing the risks involved in a given situation	126
Role reversal – seeing the situation from someone else's point of view	128
SARAH – coping with emotional intensity	131
SMART objectives – the importance of having clear goals	133
SOLER – managing interpersonal relations	137
SWOT analysis – balancing positives and negatives as an aid to decision making	139
Think–Feel–Do – taking account of the three dimensions of human experience	142
The three Hs – understanding what motivates people's behaviour	145
Transactional analysis – understanding interpersonal dynamics	148
Tuning in – making connections with the people we are trying to help	150
Using dissonance – challenging ingrained views	153
Visioning – developing a vision of the place we want to get to	155
Working backwards – keeping a clear focus on outcomes	158

CONTENTS

Part Three: Guide to Further Learning	161
Introduction	161
Further reading	162
Organizations and websites	165
 References	 166
Index	171