

Contents

Foreword v

Barry Cookson

Acknowledgements ix

- 1 Introduction to the economics of infectious disease 1
Jennifer A. Roberts
- 2 Choosing the first-line drug for malaria treatment—how can cost-effectiveness analysis inform policy? 23
Catherine Goodman, Salim Abdulla, Paul Coleman, Godfrey Mubyazi, Nassor Kikumbih, Tuoyo Okorosobo and Anne Mills
- 3 Economic issues related to antimicrobial resistance 49
Ramanan Laxminarayan
- 4 Economic evaluation of HIV prevention activities: dynamic challenges for cost-effectiveness analysis 65
Lilani Kumaranayake, Charlotte Watts, Peter Vickerman and Fern Terris-Prestholt
- 5 Modelling the cost-effectiveness of the new interventions:
how can technological change be incorporated? 85
Richard Grieve
- 6 Complexity and the attribution of cost to hospital-acquired infection 103
Nicholas Graves and Diana Weinhold
- 7 Decision analysis of strategies to deal with non-compliance with TB treatment 117
João G Q Costa, Laura C Rodrigues, Andreia C Santos and Maurício L Barreto
- 8 The economic evaluation of HAI 129
Rosalind Plowman
- 9 The socio-economic burden of influenza: costs of illness and ‘willingness to pay’ in a publicly funded health care system 159
Punam Mangtani and Amishi Shah

- 10 Willingness to pay for insecticide-treated mosquito nets in Surat, India 181
Mrigesh Bhatia and Julia Fox-Rushby
- 11 Disentangling value: assessing the benefits of containing antimicrobial resistance 201
Joanna Coast, Richard Smith and Michael Millar
- 12 Economics of animal health: implications for public health 215
Ana Riviere-Cinamond
- 13 Risk assessment models, economic analysis and food safety policy 237
Tanya Roberts
- 14 Transaction cost economics and principal-agent theory: insights into investigations of outbreaks of infectious diseases 261
Azermeen Jamasji-Pavri
- 15 Governance arrangements for the control of infectious disease 281
Pauline Allen and Bronwyn Croxson
- 16 Evaluating US food safety regulations which use benefit and cost information 299
Jean Buzby, Felix Spinelli and Clark Nardinelli
- 17 Global governance of international public health: the role of international regulatory cooperation 327 Lilani Kumaranayake
- 18 Trade and infectious disease outbreaks: ensuring public health without compromising free trade 341
Vasant Narasimhan
- 19 Epilogue: Application to contemporary challenges:
Avian 'flu and MRSA 355
Jennifer A. Roberts
- Index 371