

Contents

Acknowledgements,	vii
Introduction	1
I The Context
1. The Political and Economic Development of Switzerland 1945–1991 Clive H. Church	7
2. Trends in Writing in German-speaking Switzerland since 1945 Malcolm Pender	24
II Challenge and Example
3. Max Frisch and Friedrich Dürrenmatt Michael Butler	41
III New Directions
4. Otto F. Walter: Literature and the Strategies of Revolt Ian Hilton	59
5. Peter Bichsel: 'In Geschichten leben' Ronald Speirs	74
6. Adolf Muschg: Glimpses of Freedom H. Morgan Waidson	93
7. Hugo Loetscher: The Committed Intellect Hans Seelig	106
8. Kurt Marti: 'Chaos in die Ordnung bringen' Michael Butler	119
IV Widening Perspectives
9. E. Y. Meyer: The Construction of History through Literature Wilfried van der Will	141
10. Christoph Geiser: The 'literarische Ich' as Vantage-point Malcolm Pender	156

11. Margrit Schriber: Women and Fiction in Switzerland Mary E. Stewart	171
12. Hermann Burger: 'Die allmähliche Verfertigung des Todes beim Schreiben' John J. White	184
13. Gertrud Leutenegger: A Feminist Synthesis Elizabeth Boa	202
V Continuity and Change
14. The Fourth Generation after Frisch and Dürrenmatt Malcolm Pender	225
Afterword	240
Notes on Contributors	242
Select Bibliography	244
Index	252