

Contents

Notes on Contributors xiii

Acknowledgements xvii

Discourse Theory: Achievements, Arguments, and Challenges 1
Jacob Torfing

Introduction 1

Achievements 2

Three generations of discourse theory 5

The genealogy of post-structuralist discourse theory 9

Post-structuralist discourse theory in a nutshell 13

Common concerns responding 17

The added value of discourse theory 21

Challenges to discourse theory 24

Some initial responses 26

Plan of the book 28

Bibliography 30

1. European Integration and Security: Analysing
French and German Discourses on State,
Nation, and Europe 33
Ole Wæver

Discourse analysis as a theory of foreign policy 33

Discourse and structure 35

Method 38

France, Germany, and Europe 42

Where does it lead? 59

Notes 60

Bibliography 63

2. Passions of Identification: Discourse, Enjoyment, and European Identity 68
Yannis Stavrakakis

Introduction 68

Passions of identification I: discourse and enjoyment 70

Passions of identification II: constructing European identity	80
Conclusion	89
Notes	90
Bibliography	90
 3. Polity as Politics: Studying the Shaping and Effects of Discursive Politics	 93
Allan Dreyer Hansen and Eva Sørensen
Introduction	93
Considerations on method	98
The case study: polity and politics in Skanderborg and Hylke	102
Conclusion	113
Note	115
Bibliography	115
 4. Problematising the Mobilization of Hospital Directors	 117
Steven Griggs
Forging discourse coalitions	118
The transition of the SNCH to health policy lobby	121
Forging a modernizing coalition within the SNCH	127
Conclusions	135
Notes	136
Bibliography	136
 5. Political Administration	 139
Niels Åkerstrøm Andersen
Introduction	139
Analytical strategy	141
An analysis of form of the difference	147
An analysis of the semantics of the administrative policy as politics about the difference politics/administration	152
Conclusion: differentiation of a reflexive subsystem	161
Notes	167
Bibliography	167
 6. The Human Rights Act: Politics, Power, and the Law	 170
Anthony M. Clohesy
Introduction	170
Introduction of the HRA: competing interpretations	172
'Generations' and 'waves' of rights	176

Methodological considerations: the value of a discourse theory approach	179
Conclusion	186
Notes	187
Bibliography	188
 7. Right-wing Populism and the Radical Centre: Explaining the Electoral Growth of the Vlaams Blok in Belgium	 190
Patrick de Vos
Introduction	190
The electoral upsurge of the Vlaams Blok	190
Separatist nationalism and authoritarian xenophobic populism	192
Explaining the upsurge of the Vlaams Blok	194
Defending democracy: counter-strategies	197
The neo-revisionism of the radical centre	198
Politics without adversaries... and its threatening outside	201
Conclusion	204
Notes	206
 8. Third Way Politics Today	 211
Steven Bastow and James Martin
Introduction	211
The Third Way: left, right, or centre?	212
Discourse theory and political ideology	214
The Third Way 'repertoire' in European ideology	217
Embracing antagonism: radical democracy and the Third Way	224
Conclusion	228
Bibliography	229
 9. New Labour's Politics of the Hard-working Family	 231
Oscar Reyes
The dislocation of Labour's traditional appeal: a European perspective	233
Post-industrial society	234
The contradictions of New Labour discourse	237
The hard-working family: ignoble beginnings	239

The hard-working family: identifying a nodal point	241
Community as an empty signifier	244
New Labour's political subject	246
Notes	249
Bibliography	251
10. From Welfare to Social Exclusion: Eugenic Social Policies and the Swiss National Order	255
Véronique Mottier
Introduction	255
Method: Foucauldian discourse analysis	256
Governmentality, pastoral power, and national identity	258
Tales of heredity and degeneration	262
Eugenics and social policies	266
Concluding remarks	270
Notes	271
Bibliography	272
11. Media Discourse and the Public Sphere	275
Lilie Chouliaraki
The significance of trivia	275
Media in the media	276
The debate as government	277
The debate as an articulation of universal and particular meanings	279
The debate: 'Fingers off Frederic', Reimer Bo
21 October 1998	280
The politics of truth in the debate	289
The debate as public sphere	291
Conclusion	293
Notes	294
Bibliography	295
12. Coalitions, Practices, and Meaning in Environmental Politics: From Acid Raid to BSE	297
Maarten A. Hajer
Discourse-coalitions in politics	299
Argumentative Discourse Analysis	305
Transcription conventions	314
Notes	314
Bibliography	315

Applying Discourse Theory: the Method of Articulation	316
David Howarth
Discourse theory and the question of method	317
Application, articulation, and explanation	321
Research strategies	329
Data as text, text as data	335
Analysing text	341
The construction of subjectivity	343
Conclusion	345
Notes	346
Bibliography	347
 Index	 351