

Introduction	3
SECTION 1
Conflict Transformation Dynamics: a Staged Approach	6
1.1 Escalation and de-escalation in the wave model.....	6
1.2 The “objective/subjective mix” in escalation and de-escalation patterns	8
1.3 The long-term approach to de-escalation: stages of post-settlement peacebuilding	9
1.4 “Horizontal” approach to conflict exacerbating and mitigating dynamics	13
1.5 Asymmetric conflict transformation stages.....	15
1.6 Synthesis: the conflict transformation cycle	20
SECTION 2
Drivers of Destructive and Constructive Change: A Systemic Approach.....	23
2.1 Multi-level systemic conflict analysis: inputs from social, political and international relations theory.....	23
2.2 Systemic analysis of the driving factors of destructive and constructive change	28
2.2.1 Internal drivers (and obstacles) of change	28
2.2.2 Relational drivers (and obstacles) of change	39
2.2.3 External drivers (and obstacles) of change	45
SECTION 3
Timing and Entry-points for Systemic Conflict Transformation:
Options for Third-party Intervention	49
3.1 Principles of intervention.....	50
3.1.1 Whom to work with? Redefinition of peace constituencies	50
3.1.2 Outsiders-insiders relationships: promoting domestic ownership	52
3.1.3 Multi-partial dialogue facilitation and social justice advocacy: the ebb and flow of conflict transformation	53

3.2 Timing of intervention	54
3.2.1 Supporting constructive conflict escalation	55
3.2.2 Enhancing ripeness for de-escalation	58
3.2.3 Accompanying peace processes (between ceasefires and peace agreements)	64
3.2.4 Sustaining peace implementation and consolidation	67
Conclusion.....	73
Bibliography.....	76