

CONTENTS

About the Editors	vii
About the Contributors	ix
Foreword Penelope K. Trickett	xix
Acknowledgments	xxi
Introduction	xxv

I Children Exposed to Violence: Prevalence and Consequences

1 Children Exposed to Intimate Partner Violence Annie Lewis-O'Connor, Phyllis W. Sharps, Janice Humphreys, Faye A. Gary, and Jacquelyn Campbell	3
2 Children Exposed to Community Violence Michael Lynch	29
3 Children Exposed to War and Terrorism Paramjit T. Joshi, Deborah A. O'Donnell, Lisa M. Cullins, and Shulamit M. Lewin	53

II Interventions and Services for Children Exposed to Violence

4 Child-Parent Psychotherapy and the Early Trauma Treatment Network: Collaborating to Treat Infants, Toddlers, and Preschoolers Patricia Van Horn and Alicia F. Lieberman	87
5 Interventions and Promising Approaches for Children Exposed to Domestic Violence Betsy McAlister Groves and Abigail Gewirtz	107

6	Crisis Intervention: Secondary Prevention for Children Exposed to Violence Steven J. Berkowitz and Steven Marans	137
7	Mental Health Interventions for Children Affected by War or Terrorism B. Heidi Ellis, Audrey Rubin, Theresa Stichick Betancourt, and Glenn Saxe	159

III Legal and Policy Issues Related to Children Exposed to Violence

8	A Response System for Children Exposed to Domestic Violence: Public Policy in Support of Best Practices Jeffrey L. Edleson	191
9	Children with Disabilities Exposed to Violence: Legal and Public Policy Issues Patricia M. Sullivan	213
10	Conclusions and Future Directions Margaret M. Feerick and Gerald B. Silverman	239
	Index	249