

Contents

Preface	ix
---------	----

PART I

Barbara Fass Leavy

1. Introduction	3
Ibsen and Folklore	3
The Seal Folk Pattern	10

PART II

Per Shelde Jacobsen

2. The Magic Ballads: An Analysis	27
Rationale	27
Methodology	28
The Ballads	30
The Sociohistorical Background of the Ballads	31
The Demons and Christianity	40
The Psychologization of the Demons	44
Recapitulation	47

3. Marginal Maidens: The Image of Women in the Ballads	54
The Story	54
"Jomfruen og Dværgekongen"	54
"Agnete og Havmanden"	56
"Nøkkens Svig"	57
"Harpens Kraft"	59
"Rosmer"	60
"Kvindemorderen"	61
The Pattern	62
The Analysis: The Core	63
The Journey and the Bridge	71
The Function of the Ballads	76
Symbols Beyond the Core	83
The Corresponding Male Ballads	90
4. Ibsen and the Ballads	99
The Danish Romantics	99
The Early Ibsen Plays	104
Ibsen and the Huldre	106
Folklore Themes in the Early Plays	111
1. Formal Devices	111
2. Folklore as a Personality Trait	113
3. Seduction	115
4. Male/Female	117
5. Pagan/Christian	120
The Late Plays
Rosmersholm	121
Fruen fra havet	131
Hedda Gabler	136
Bygmester Solness	141
Lille Eyolf	148
John Gabriel Borkman	152
Når vi døde vågner	158

PART III

Barbara Fass Leavy

5. John Rosmer and Rosmer Havmand	173
-----------------------------------	-----

Contents

6. Ellida as Seal Maiden	196
7. Hedda Gabler and the Huldre	211
8. Halvard Solness: The Reluctant Troll	225
9. Little Eyolf as Changeling	238
10. John Gabriel Borkman: The Miner and the Werewolf	256
11. The Wild Men and Wild Women of When We Dead Awaken	274

PART IV

Per Schelde Jacobsen

Appendix A

“On the Folk Ballad and Its Significance for the Literary Arts” by Henrik Ibsen	297
--	-----

Appendix B

Henrik Ibsen: Diary, June 24–July 17, 1862	313
--	-----

Bibliography	325
--------------	-----

Index	339
-------	-----