

CONTENTS

Preface to the Series	vii
-----------------------	-----

Preface to the Volume	ix
-----------------------	----

PART ONE: MATERIALS Richard T. Gray

Editions and Translations
German Editions	3
Dual-Language Editions	5
Translations	5
The Instructor's Library
Bibliographies and Reference Works	6
Background and Biographical Studies	8
Critical Studies	11
Didactic Approaches	14
Student Readings
Background and Biographical Studies	15
Critical Studies	16
Aids to Teaching	16

PART TWO: APPROACHES

Literary and Historical Contexts

Kafka and Modernism
Walter H. Sokel	21
Gender, Judaism, and Power: A Jewish Feminist Approach to Kafka
Evelyn Torton Beck	35
Kafka's "An Imperial Message" in a Comparative Context
Judith Ryan	43

Classroom Strategies

From Caligari to Kafka: Expressionist Film and the Teaching of Kafka's Short Fiction
Richard T. Gray	53
Teaching Kafka in the Second-Year German Course
Joseph L. Brockington	64

Thematic and Aesthetic Issues

Kafka and Women
Ruth V. Gross	69

The Language of Defamiliarization: Benjamin's Kafka Carrie L. Asman	76
A Psychoanalytic Approach to "The Judgment" Kenneth Hughes	84
Pedagogical and Interpretive Perspectives on Individual Texts
George Bendemann's Path to the Judgment Elizabeth W. Trahan	94
Kafka's The Metamorphosis and the Search for Meaning in Twentieth-Century German Literature Margit M. Sinka	105
Irony, Contingency, and Postmodernity: "In the Penal Colony" Steven Taubeneck	114
The Text That Was Never a Story: Symmetry and Disaster in "A Country Doctor" Henry Sussman	123
Purification unto Death: "A Hunger Artist" as Allegory of Modernism James Rolleston	135
Contributors and Survey Participants	143
Works Cited	145
Index	159