

Contents

	Page
Acknowledgements	v
List of authors	vii
Glossary	ix
Synopsis	xiii
I - Background and methods John Bynner, Walter R. Heinz, Peter Kupka, Ken Roberts	1
II - Labour markets in four cities Martina Behrens, Stan Clark, Karen Evans, Peter Kupka	15
III - Education and training Martina Behrens, Stan Clark, Karen Evans, Peter Kupka	39
IV - Entering the world of work Martina Behrens, Alan Brown	61
V - The academic route Martina Behrens, Alan Brown	71
VI - Routes to skilled work Martina Behrens, Alan Brown	89
VII - Uncertain routes, diverse destinations Martina Behrens, Alan Brown	113
VIII - Routes to nowhere? Martina Behrens, Alan Brown	137

	Page
IX - Work attitudes and future expectations
Martina Behrens, Peter Kupka	163
X - Life patterns in the making
Stan Clark, Peter Kupka	183
XI - Career trajectories in Britain and Germany
Karen Evans, Walter R. Heinz	205
XII - Problems and solutions
Klaus Hurrelmann, Ken Roberts	229
References	251
Appendices
I - Sampling and trajectory matching	261
II - Profiles of young people	274
III - Family social class	284
IV - Questionnaire	286
List of Tables
2.1: Sectoral classification of those in employment in the Swindon travel-to-work area	17
2.2: Unemployment rate at April of each year, 1985-89	19
2.3: Unemployment rates in Paderborn, 1985-89	23
2.4: New training contracts in Paderborn, 1976/77 - 1986/87	25
2.5: Unemployment in Bremen (City) 1978 to 1988, annual average	27
2.6: Three-sector structure: Bremen/German percentages of employees	28
2.7: Apprentices/trainees in Bremen attending vocational schools (including non-firm-based training) in 1986/87, by occupational fields and sex	30

	Page
2.8: Population change in the City of Liverpool	34
2.9: Employment changes in Liverpool by sectors, 1961-85	35
2.10: Unemployment rate in Liverpool at January of each year	36
3.1: Percentages of young people entering different types of training schemes in cities in Britain	49
3.2: Demand for training in Bremen (City) over the period 1982-88 (30 September each year)	51
3.3: Entry into non-firm-based training and vocational preparation in Bremen (Land)	52
3.4: Educational qualifications of BFS/q participants in 1986	54
3.5: Follow-up steps of participants from six different schemes in Paderborn, October 1987 - September 1988	59
4.1: Average number who reported experiences in each trajectory in each town in each country	63
4.2: Average numbers who had each experience in each country	64
4.3: Experience of using IT	67
4.4: Places where IT experience had been acquired	68
5.1: Students working in order to finance their studies, 1986	83
5.2: Work-related skills and experiences	85
6.1: Training allowances in DMs	91
6.2: Search strategies	92
6.3: Cost of training (% of full adult salary)	105
6.4: Satisfaction with standard of living	107
6.5: Average earnings in different occupations in Swindon	107
6.6: Numbers reporting work-related skills and experiences in trajectory II	108
7.1: Numbers in each type of German vocational school in trajectory III	114
7.2: Numbers in each type of training situation in trajectory III	115
7.3: Numbers enrolled in the BGJ	121
7.4: Numbers reporting work-related skills and experiences in trajectory III	129
8.1: Participation and follow-ups from schemes, October 1987 - September 1988	148
8.2: Numbers with work-related skills and experience in trajectory IV	157

	Page
9.1: Ranking of job characteristics in terms of importance	166
9.2: Important features of a job (numbers agreeing, by trajectory)	170
9.3: Important features of a job (numbers agreeing and disagreeing, by country)	170
9.4: Expected position in one year, by area	173
9.5: Whether would be able to avoid unemployment, by area	178
9.6: Mean values of occupational self-confidence, by areas and trajectories	179
10.1: Number of unemployed parents, by town	185
10.2: Arguments because he/she would not help with domestic work, by town	187
10.3: Satisfaction with home area, by town	190
10.4: Satisfaction with education, by trajectory	191
10.5: Satisfaction with future prospects, by trajectory	192
10.6: Numbers very/quite likely to move for a job, by trajectory and town	194
10.7: Support for political parties	196
10.8: Green Party support	198
10.9: Lack of interest in politics (numbers claiming to be not very interested or not at all interested)	199
10.10: SPD and Labour Party identification and 'voting'	200

Appendices

1: Reponse to screening questionnaire, by trajectory	262
2: Response main questionnaire	263
3: Paderborn sample	264
4: Father's social class, by area	284
5: Father's social class, by career trajectory, by country	285

List of Figures

1: Chart of the educational system in Britain	41
2: Chart of the educational system in Germany	42
3: School to work trajectories in Germany	208
4: School to work trajectories in Britain	209