

Contents

Introduction		vii
I	Writing is Better than a Face-lift	1
II	Rebuild Baghdad? But in What Galaxy?	8
III	Morocco: The Merchant's Daughter and the Son of the Sultan	13
	The Merchant's Daughter and the Son of the Sultan / 16
IV	Women, Saints and Sanctuaries	21
	Sanctuaries as Therapy / 23 Sanctuaries as Anti-establishment Arenas / 25 Sainthood as an Alternative to Male-defined Femininity / 27 Male Saints as Anti-heroes / 29
V	Virginity and Patriarchy	34
	The Link between Women and Nature / 34 The Lack of Understanding between the Sexes / 35 The Great Tragedy of the Patriarchal Male / 37 Social Schizophrenia / 38 The Consequences of Inequality / 40 Social Changes and the Reorganization of Space / 41 The Pursuit of Adolescent Girls / 43 The Symptom of Malaise / 44
VI	Population Planning Without Democracy? The Conflict between the Muslim State and Women	46
	I The Unbridled Sexuality of Women as the Cause of the Population Explosion / 46
	II The Notion of Ante-natal Care as a Revolution in the Relations between Women and the Muslim State: Female reproduction and male administrative efficiency / 49
	III Why is the Ineffectiveness of the Public Services in Women's Issues not Perceived as a Scandal? The notions of qaid and hijab as obstacles to citizenship / 55
	IV Women's Education and their Participation in the Process of Democratization, particularly in Media

Production, as Two Ways of Promoting the Wider Use of Birth Control / 58 Conclusion / 60

VII Women's Work 63

Religious and Scientific Concepts as Political Manipulation in Dependent Islam / 63 Sex Roles in Medieval Islam / 68 The Jariya: History and Legend / 69

VIII The Jariya and the Caliph:
Thoughts on the Place of Women in Muslim
Political Memory 77

Pertinence of the Problematic and Definition of Concepts
/ 77 Problematic / 79 Conclusion: What is to be Done with an Anti-democratic 'Political Memory'? / 89

IX Women in Muslim History:
Traditional Perspectives and New Strategies 92

Medieval History and the Legitimization of Women's Rights
/ 95 Strategies for Enhancing the Image of Muslim
Women / 100

X Femininity as Subversion: Reflection on the Muslim Concept of Nushuz 109

Individualism as a Crime Against the Sacred Law: The Concept of Bid'a and Its Proximity to the Concept of Nushuz / 111 Sakina and A'isha: Feminists of the First Century of Islam / 113 Sakina's Rebellion: The First Century / 114 Feminism as an Internal Threat to Muslim Order: Implications of Nushuz / 115 Conclusion: The Umma and the Challenge of Individualism(s) / 118

Index 121