Contents

Dedication ix
Preface xi
About the Authors xiv
Acknowledgements xv

1 Electronic Trade 1
1.1 What is eBusiness? 2
1.2 The Whistle-stop Tour 4
1.3 Who should be Interested? 10
1.4 Are we Ready? 12
1.5 About this Book 14
1.6 Summary 15
Further Reading 16

2 The Electronic Marketplace 17
2.1 What is an Electronic Market? 18
2.2 Trading Models: Markets, Guilds and Auctions 21
2.3 Seller-driven, Buyer-driven and Open Markets 24
2.4 Cottage Industries and Global Markets 31
2.5 What are the Roles of the Players? 33
2.6 Culture, Trust and Logistics 34
2.7 Summary 37
Reference 38
Further Reading 38

3 The Electronic Shop 39
3.1 Catalogues 40
3.2 Different Scales of Catalogue 40
3.3 Low-end DIY Catalogues 41
3.4 Low-end Commercial Catalogues 42
3.5 High-end Catalogues 43
3.6 Buyers and Sellers 45
3.7 Retail versus Wholesale 46
3.8 Many-to-Many Markets 46
3.9 Market Mediation 48
3.10 Fulfilment 49
3.11 Off-the-shelf Commerce Platforms 51

3.12 Agents 53
3.13 Summary 55
Reference 56

4 Payments, Credit and Invoicing 57
4.1 Some Definitions 58
4.2 Payments Trends 58
4.3 Main Industry Players 60
4.4 Credit and Debit Card Payments 61
4.5 Electronic Cash 68
4.6 Credit Accounts 71
4.7 Electronic Cheques 74
4.8 SET in Detail 75
4.9 Payments, Micropayments and Nanopayments 82
4.10 Electronic Funds Transfer 84
4.11 Security and Protection for New Financial Products and Services 91
4.12 How not to become a Bank or Credit Company 92
4.13 Electronic Banking 93
4.14 Standardisation 93
4.15 Summary 95
Further Information 96

5 Trust and Security 97
5.1 Privacy and Encryption 98
5.2 Digital Signatures 104
5.3 Trust 106
5.4 Smart Cards 110
5.5 Security Good Practice 111
5.6 Public Key Infrastructures (PKI) 112
5.7 Summary 114
Further Reading 114

6 Integration 115
6.1 Definitions 116
6.2 Integration Principles 117
6.3 Planning Integration 118
6.4 Batch-oriented Integration 121
6.5 Real-time Integration 124
6.6 Integration Tactics 128
6.7 Integration Strategies 130
6.8 The Front End 132
6.9 Summary 135
References 136
Further Reading 136

7 Supply Chain 137

7.1 EDI: how it works, why it isn't enough 138
7.2 Workflow 141
7.3 Direct and Indirect Goods 145
7.4 Non-credit Card Payment Systems 147
7.5 Multiple Suppliers 148
7.6 Case Study—Commerce-1 150
7.7 Intranets, Extranets and COINs 152
7.8 Legacy Suppliers 153
7.9 XML 154
7.10 Summary 160
Further Reading 161

8 Setting Up Shop 163

8.1 Ready, Steady . . . Shop 163
8.2 Where you Get your Stuff 169
8.3 Shopfitting 170
8.4 Checklist 173
8.5 Summary 175
Further Reading 175

9 Putting the 'e' into your business 177

9.1 Introduction 177
9.2 eBusiness Service Providers 178
9.3 Customer Perspective 184
9.4 The Networked Economy 188
9.5 Principles of eBusiness Strategy 189
9.6 Summary 194
References 194

10 Underlying Technologies and Standards 195

10.1 Access Devices 196
10.2 Smart Cards 199
10.3 Internet Technology 205
10.4 Data Networks 214
10.5 Mobility 223
10.6 Electronic Cash Standards 225
10.7 Markup Languages 227
10.8 Objects and Middleware 232
10.9 Alliances and Initiatives 249
10.10 Summary 251
References 252

11 mBusiness 255

11.1 Anytime, Anyhow, Anywhere 255
11.2 The mBusiness Network 258
11.3 The Network and Service Providers View 267
11.4 Mobile Data Standards 269

11.5 Evolution—UMTS, INT2000 and Third Generation 271
11.6 The Local End 272
11.7 Summary 275
References 275

12 Who is Going to Make Money out of All of this and How? 277
12.1 New Dog, New Tricks 278
12.2 From Competition to Co-operation 279
12.3 Power to the People 281
12.4 Advertising 283
12.5 Trust Me, I'm a Trader 284
12.6 Paradise Lost 285
12.7 At last—1984 286
12.8 Summary 287
References 287

Appendix 1 Case Studies 289
A1.1 Case Study 1—Federal Express 289
A1.2 Case Study 2—Cisco Systems 292
A1.3 Summary 294
Further Reading 294

Appendix 2 The Gods of Technology 295
A2.1 Exploring Olympus 296
A2.2 The Gods in Action 298
A2.3 Finding your God 302
A2.4 Following a False God 305
A2.5 Summary 306
Reference 307
Further Reading 307

Appendix 3 Glossary 309

Bibliography 331

Index 333