

CONTENTS

PREFACE iii

INTRODUCTION vii

1

SOME TRAITS OF LANGUAGE 1

Language Is Human	2
Language Is Thought and Activity	2
The Medium of Language Is Sound	3
Language Is Hierarchic	3
Language Changes to Outwit Change	4
Language Is Embedded in Gesture	5
Language Is Both Arbitrary and Non-arbitrary	9
Language Is Vertical as Well as Horizontal	11
Languages Are Similarly Structured	12
Language Is Heard as Well as Spoken	14
Key Terms and Concepts	15
Additional Remarks and Applications	15
For Further Reading	16

2

LANGUAGE AS DISTINCTIVE SOUND 17

Phonetics and Phonology	18
Articulations	19

Prosody	25
Sounds in Combination: The Syllable	29
Phonemes and Allophones	30
Key Terms and Concepts	34
Additional Remarks and Applications	34
For Further Reading	35

3

SOUNDS AND WORDS 36

Systematic Phonemes and Distinctive Features	36
Word Shapes	42
Phonological and Morphological Conditioning	44
The Complexity of English Morphology	47
Key Terms and Concepts	49
Additional Remarks and Applications	49
For Further Reading	50

4

WORDS AND THEIR MAKE-UP 52

Collocations and Idioms	53
Lexicon, Syntax, and Morphology	57
Lexical Morphemes: The Fabrication of Prefabs	59
The Make-Up of Words	61
Grammatical Morphemes: Inflections and Function Words	66
Key Terms and Concepts	71
Additional Remarks and Applications	72
For Further Reading	73

5

THE STRUCTURE OF SENTENCES 74

Togetherness	76
Operators	77
Constructions and Constituents	78

Word Classes	81
Classes and Functions	87
Grammatical and Psychological Functions	89
Classes as Features	90
Sentences	90
Transformations	92
Deep Structure	95
Hidden Sentences, Higher and Lower	100
Syntax Beyond the Sentence	101
Key Terms and Concepts	104
Additional Remarks and Applications	104
For Further Reading	107

6

MEANING 108

The Segmentation of Reality	110
The Analysis of Meaning	114
Semantic Features	114
Field Relationships	117
Dynamic Relationships	119
Other Factors	120
Maps of Semantic Space	122
Words with Shared Features: Synonyms and Antonyms	123
Other Word Sets	128
Arbitrariness: Icons and Symbols	129
Key Terms and Concepts	131
Additional Remarks and Applications	131
For Further Reading	133

7

MIND AND LANGUAGE 134

Language and Thought	134
Language and Logic	136
Control by Language	138
The Whorf Hypothesis	139
Partial Escape from the Trap	141
The "Semantic Differential"	143
Control Through Language	145

Naming	145
Favorable and Unfavorable Naming: Epithets	146
Elevation and Degradation	148
Code Switching	149
Non-neutrality in Grammar	151
Truth	153
Key Terms and Concepts	154
Additional Remarks and Applications	155
For Further Reading	157

8

GROWTH: THE CHILD AND THE RACE 158

Is Language Learned or Inherited?	160
Are Adults Innately Teachers of Language?	165
The Stages of Acquisition	168
The Grammars of Childhood	171
The Origin of Language	175
Preadaptation	178
Language and the Brain	186
Key Terms and Concepts	188
Additional Remarks and Applications	188
For Further Reading	190

9

VARIATION IN SPACE 191

Speech Communities	195
Non-areal Communities	195
Areal Communities	203
Registers, Repertories, Roles, and Reputations	211
Registers	212
Repertories and Roles	216
Reputations	219
Analysis	222
Key Terms and Concepts	225

Additional Remarks and Applications	225
For Further Reading	230

10

VARIATION IN TIME 231

Where the Variants Come From	235
Speakers' Errors	236
Hearers' Errors: Reinterpretation	247
The Changing World	255
Bilingualism	257
Invention	260
How the Variants Are Reacted To	261
Resistance	262
Acceptance	265
Cumulative Change	266
Progress	268
Key Terms and Concepts	269
Additional Remarks and Applications	269
For Further Reading	272

11

WRITING AND READING 273

Writing and Speech	274
Convergence of Writing and Speech	274
Writing and Speech as Partially Independent Systems	278
The Efficiency of English Spelling	283
The Growth of Writing	285
Word Writing	287
Syllable Writing	288
Sound Writing: The Alphabet	290
Decipherment	291
The Future of Writing	294
Key Terms and Concepts	296
Additional Remarks and Applications	297
For Further Reading	298

12

LANGUAGE AND THE PUBLIC INTEREST 300

The Imposition of Language	301
Imposing a Dialect	301
Imposing a Language	306
Constructed Languages	311
The Dictionary	312
Language and Empathy	316
Key Terms and Concepts	317
Additional Remarks and Applications	318
For Further Reading	319
REFERENCES	321
INDEX	335