

Table of Contents

Preface.....	vii
Acknowledgments.....	xiii
List of Abbreviations	xv

Part One: Aesthetics and the Encounter with the Beautiful 1

Chapter One: Gadamer's Aesthetics	3
Kant, Heidegger, and the Subjectivization of Aesthetic Consciousness ..	3
Play, Presentation and Aesthetic Non-Differentiation.....	10
Play and Drama	14
The Radiance Theory of Beauty and Gadamer's Aesthetics	15
Chapter Two: Balthasar's Aesthetics	23
The Rejection of Subjectivism in Aesthetic Fundamental Theology	24
The Subjective Pole: The Reception of Revelation	28
The Objective Pole: The Kenosis of God	35
Theo-Drama as Dialogical Participation in the Revelation of God	39
Chapter Three: A Comparison of the Aesthetic Approach of Gadamer and Balthasar.....	51
Rejection of Subjectivism as Starting Point for Aesthetics	51
The Dialogical Approach to Aesthetic Truth.....	53
Radiance Metaphysics	55
Drama and Participative Transformation.....	56
Beauty, Metaphysics and Revelation.....	58
Conclusion	59

Part Two: Hermeneutics and the Encounter

with Historical Tradition 61

Chapter Four: Gadamer's Hermeneutics.....	63
The Critique of Historical Consciousness and Methods of Interpretation.....	64
Historical Situatedness and Gadamer's Hermeneutics	69
Chapter Five: Balthasar's Hermeneutics.....	85
The Critique of Methodological Approaches to the Interpretation of Revelation	85
Salvation History: The Relationship of the Old Testament and Christ ..	89
Salvation History: Theodramatic Hermeneutics and the Situatedness of Present-Day Interpreters.....	92

Chapter Six: A Comparative Analysis of the Hermeneutics of Gadamer and Balthasar.....	101
The Rejection of an Objective Standpoint for Interpretation	101
The Dialogue Between Past and Present and the Situatedness of the Interpreter.....	102
Differences in the “End” of History	104
The Relationship Between Aesthetics and Hermeneutics	107
Part Three: Truth, Critique, and Dialogue.....	111
Chapter Seven: Truth, Critique, and Dialogue.....	113
Elements of a Theory of Truth in an Aesthetic Hermeneutics.....	113
Potential Critiques: Insufficient Emphasis on Historical Origins.....	115
Potential Critique: Insufficient Attention to Social Structures	120
Potential Critique: Inability to Adjudicate Conflicting Interpretations	123
Dialogue and Pluralism in Aesthetic Hermeneutics	125
Conclusion	137
Bibliography.....	139