

Contents

List of Figures	10
List of Tables	13
The Authors	14
Series Editors	15
Series Preface	16
Preface	17
Acknowledgements	19
Section One Event context	1
Chapter 1: What are events?	3
Introduction	3
Events as benchmarks for our lives	4
The rich tradition of events	4
Industrialization, festivals and the sporting event calendar	5
Birth of an events industry?	7
What are events?	14
Types of events	15
The structure of the events industry	23
Event management education and training	26
Career opportunities in events	29
Chapter summary	30
Questions	31
CASE STUDY 1.1: Tsunami Relief Cardiff	31
CASE STUDY 1.2: Manchester 2002 The XVII Commonwealth Games – Key Lessons	33
Chapter 2: The impacts of events	36
Introduction	36
Balancing the impact of events	37
Government's use of events as economic development strategies	53
Economic impact studies	54
Chapter summary	58
Questions	58
CASE STUDY 2.1: ITMA 2003, The NEC, Birmingham	59
CASE STUDY 2.2: Glastonbury Festival Environmental Policy	63
Chapter 3: Event tourism	67
Introduction	67
Developing destination-based event tourism strategies	68
The event tourism strategic planning process	68

Situational analysis	68
Development of event tourism goals	69
Creation of an event tourism organizational structure	78
Development of an event tourism strategy	80
Implementation of an event tourism strategy	82
Evaluation of an event tourism strategy	88
Tourism events and regional development	89
Chapter summary	89
Questions	89
CASE STUDY 3.1: EventScotland	90
CASE STUDY 3.2: Event Denmark	93

Section Two Event strategy 95

Chapter 4: Conceptualizing the event 97

Introduction	97
Stakeholders in events	97
The host organization	99
The host community	101
Sponsors	104
Media	105
Co-workers	106
Participants and spectators	106
Creating the event concept	107
Evaluating the event concept	108
The synergy of ideas	110
Chapter summary	111
Questions	112
CASE STUDY 4.1: Edinburgh International Book Festival – Festival of Ideas, Journeying and Imagining	112

Chapter 5: The planning function 117

Introduction	117
What is planning?	117
Planning for events	118
Elements of the strategic event planning process	120
Developing a strategic plan	124
Chapter summary	134
Questions	134
CASE STUDY 5.1: The Vodafone Ball by Euro RSCG Skybridge	135
CASE STUDY 5.2: Daily Mail Ideal Home Show	139

Chapter 6: Human resource management and events 144

Introduction	144
Considerations associated with human resource planning for events	145
The human resource planning process for events	145
Recruitment, selection and induction	152
Motivating staff and volunteers	166
Techniques for effective staff and volunteer team building	171
Legal obligations	172
Chapter summary	173
Questions	173

CASE STUDY 6.1: The XVII Commonwealth Games 2002 Manchester – A Volunteering Legacy	174
CASE STUDY 6.2: Eurostar Forum by World Event Management	176
Chapter 7: Strategic marketing for events	179
Introduction	179
What is marketing?	179
Event marketing research	185
The event consumer's decision-making process	193
Event satisfaction, service quality, repeat visits	197
Steps in the strategic marketing process	199
Planning event 'product' experiences	209
People and partnerships	212
Pricing, free entry or donation	213
Event 'place', physical setting and processes	214
Integrated marketing communication for events	216
Chapter summary	220
Questions	220
CASE STUDY 7.1: International Confex	221
CASE STUDY 7.2: Ford Thunderbirds by Imagination	224
Chapter 8: Sponsorship of events	227
Introduction	227
What is sponsorship?	228
Trends influencing the growth in sponsorship	230
Sponsorship benefits for events and sponsors	232
The value of sponsorship policy	238
Stages in developing the event sponsorship strategy	239
Managing and 'servicing' sponsorships	250
Measuring and evaluating the sponsorship	253
Chapter summary	254
Questions	255
CASE STUDY 8.1: Microsoft UK's Sponsorship of the 2002 Commonwealth Games	255
CASE STUDY 8.2: Cheltenham Arts Festivals	259
Section Three Event management	263
Chapter 9: Project management for events	265
Introduction	265
Project management	265
What is a project?	266
Phases of the project management of events	267
Knowledge areas	270
Project management techniques	273
Project evaluation	282
Project management systems and software	284
Limitations of the project management approach to event management	285
Chapter summary	286
Questions	287
CASE STUDY 9.1: Project managing The Dream	287
CASE STUDY 9.2: Opening and Closing Ceremonies of Athens 2004 Olympics	291

Chapter 10: Control and budgeting	294
Introduction	294
What is control?	294
Elements and categories of control	295
Control methods	298
The budget	302
Reporting	312
Chapter summary	313
Questions	314
CASE STUDY 10.1: Edinburgh International Festival	314
Chapter 11: Risk management and legal issues	318
Introduction	318
Risk management process	319
Legal issues	329
Contracts	331
Constructing a contract	337
Trademarks and logos	338
Duty of care	339
Disability discrimination act	339
Insurance	340
Regulations, licences and permits	342
Chapter summary	344
Questions	344
CASE STUDY 11.1: Radio One Love Parade, Leeds by Logistik	345
CASE STUDY 11.2: Event Risk Management at Leeds New Year's Eve 2003	348
Chapter 12: Logistics	352
Introduction	352
What is logistics?	352
The elements of event logistics	353
Supply of facilities	360
On-site logistics	360
Shutdown	369
Techniques of logistics management	372
Negotiation and assessment	374
Control of events logistics	375
Evaluation of logistics	375
The logistics plan	376
Chapter summary	376
Questions	377
CASE STUDY 12.1: Electrical Services at Glastonbury Festival	377
CASE STUDY 12.2: Belfast Festival at Queen's	379
Chapter 13: Staging events	385
Introduction – what is staging?	385
Theming and event design	386
Programming	387
Choice of venue	388
Audience/guests	390
The stage	392
Power	393
Lights	394

Sound	394
Audiovisual and special effects	397
Props and decoration	398
Catering	398
Performers	399
The crew	400
Hospitality	401
The production schedule	403
Recording the event	404
Contingencies	404
Chapter summary	404
Questions	405
CASE STUDY 13.1: Theming – a marketing tool	406
CASE STUDY 13.2: Live 8	408
Chapter 14: Evaluation and reporting	412
Introduction	412
What is event evaluation?	413
When to evaluate events	414
Reporting to stakeholders	415
Types of research	416
What to evaluate	421
Measuring visitor expenditure	421
Media monitoring and evaluation	427
Event evaluation reports and profiles	427
Finalization	429
Chapter summary	429
Questions	430
CASE STUDY 14.1: MTV Europe Music Awards 2003	430
CASE STUDY 14.2: T in the Park	433
Section Four Trends and issues	437
Chapter 15: Issues and trends	439
Introduction	439
Societal trends and their impact on events	439
The growth of the Events Industry	440
Recognition of Events Management as a profession	444
Event franchising	446
The use of events in skills development and training	446
Information technology	447
Risk management	447
The expansion of events education	448
Transfer-of-knowledge programmes	449
The growth of events research	449
Increasing government involvement in events	450
The adoption of environmental management practices by events	452
Chapter summary	455
Questions	455
CASE STUDY 15.1: The Notting Hill Carnival	456
CASE STUDY 15.2: Managing the Knowledge of the 2000 Sydney Olympic Games	459
References	463
Index	489

List of Figures

1.1	Categorization of events	16
2.1	Eight-stage process for waste reduction and recycling	47
3.1	Event tourism strategic planning process	69
3.2	Possible factors for inclusion in a destination's event tourism SWOT analysis	70
3.3	Major event tourism organizations	79
3.4	Event rating scale	82
3.5	Events Tasmania hierarchical model of events	83
3.6	Common Grant selection criteria employed by event tourism organizations	84
3.7	Services Offered by Glasgow Convention Bureau	87
4.1	The relationship of stakeholders to events	98
5.1	The strategic event planning process	119
5.2	Contents of the event proposal	121
5.3	A simple organizational structure	122
5.4	Functional structure	123
5.5	Programme-based matrix structure for a hypothetical multi-venue sporting event	124
5.6	A network structure	125
6.1	The human resource planning process for events	146
6.2	Extract from volunteer event steward job description and person specification	151
6.3	The recruitment and selection process for paid and voluntary employees	152
6.4	Volunteer application form	155
6.5	Sample interviewer's checklist	157
6.6	Rights and responsibilities of volunteers and voluntary organizations	159
6.7	Example of a job description and contract for a volunteer	160
6.8	A simple model of the learning process	162
6.9	Dynamic performance appraisal system	163
6.10	Example of a volunteer survey	167
6.11	Basis of content theories of motivation	168
6.12	Maslow's hierarchy of needs	168
6.13	Hertzberg's two-factor theory	169
7.1	The event services trinity	183
7.2	Constructing the mission	185
7.3	The strategic event marketing process	186
7.4	Components of the environment analysis	188
7.5	The four competitive forces	189
7.6	Quality – the fit between customer expectations and perceptions	198
7.7	Modern family life cycle	203
7.8	Ansoff's product-market matrix	208
7.9	The process of creating an event 'product'	210
7.10	Pricing decisions for events marketers	214

7.11	The IMC process model for events	217
7.12	Event message objectives and strategies	218
8.1	The trinity of sponsor, event and audiences	229
8.2	Mutual benefits sought by events and sponsors	232
8.3	The sponsorship effects process	234
8.4	Bank of Scotland corporate sponsorship criteria and request form	243
8.5	Screening criteria used by businesses to determine sponsorship	248
8.6	A checklist of items to be included in a sponsorship budget	253
9.1	The phases of project management	268
9.2	Project management cascade	274
9.3	Plans and documents created from the work breakdown structure (WBS)	275
9.4	Simplified Gantt chart of a small festival	279
9.5	Gantt chart represented as a network	280
9.6	The event plan, archive and review system	283
10.1	The control process	297
10.2	The breakeven chart	300
10.3	Festival Trust 2006–09 Financial Plan	303
10.4	The budget process	303
10.5	Generic budget – first level	304
10.6	Generic budget – second level	305
10.7	Generic budget – third level	306
10.8	Control, cost and time	308
10.9	Reporting guidelines	313
10.10	Edinburgh International Festival Consolidated Revenue Account	316
11.1	Nine steps to risk management	320
11.2	Checklist for planning risk assessment requirements	330
11.3	Legal structure of festivals	331
11.4	A sample contract	333
11.5	Contracts required by an event management company	334
11.6	The contract management process	334
11.7	The process of constructing a contract	337
11.8	The duty of care	339
12.1	Elements of the logistics system	353
12.2	Ticketing – logistics checklist	356
12.3	Queuing – factors to consider	357
12.4	Customer transport checklist	359
12.5	Some of the traffic patterns to consider when planning an event	361
12.6	Simple communication plan	362
12.7	Event programme information	364
12.8	Creamfield's 2000 Site Map	365
12.9	Food and beverage – factors to consider	368
12.10	Event shutdown checklist	370
12.11	The lines of communication between the logistics manager and other managers for a multi-venue event	372
12.12	Checklist for the logistics site map	374
13.1	The elements of staging revolve around the theme	387
13.2	The factors in venue selection	388
13.3	An example of a stage plan	391
13.4	Relationship between type of event and the relative importance of the elements of staging	393
13.5	Factors to consider in stage safety	393
13.6	Two examples of audio speaker layout	395
13.7	A simple flow chart for a sound system	396

xii List of Figures

13.8	Issues to be considered when arranging catering for an event	399
13.9	A hospitality checklist	402
13.10	A summary of the tools necessary for staging an event	405
14.1	Evaluation and the event management process	413
14.2	Event evaluation checklist	420
14.3	Five phase approach to economic impact evaluation	422
14.4	Visitors survey	423
14.5	Economic impact equations	426
14.6	Media release on economic impact of 1998 Network Q Rally	428
15.1	Corporate event financial management	443
15.2	International EMBOK structure	445

List of Tables

1.1	Year of origin of UK arts festivals	11
2.1	The impacts of events	38
2.2	Major international events	43
2.3	Examples of economic benefits of events	56
4.1	Event typology	100
5.1	Sample event mission statements	127
5.2	Sample of event goals and objectives	128
6.1	Reward and recognition techniques	171
7.1	A classification of socio-economic market segments for events	201
7.2	Socio-economic classification classes	202
7.3	The generations born in the twentieth century	202
7.4	ACORN consumer classification	204
7.5	Lifestyle dimensions	205
9.1	The two stages of the Games coordination timeline	288
9.2	Key management issues	289
9.3	The games work breakdown structure	290
11.1	Severity and Frequency Scales	350
11.2	Example of headings used in an event risk assessment	350
12.1	Information required by the logistics manager from the other festival managers	373
12.2	Examples of access information guide	382