

Contents

I. The life of John Dowland	page 19
II. The solo lute music	94
III. The song-books	181
IV. Psalms and spiritual songs	320
V. Lachrimæ or Seaven Teares and other consort music	341
VI. Dowland's translations	375
VII. Patrons and friends	390
VIII. Posthumous reputation. Fall and rise	436
Appendix 1: The Schele Lute MS	447
Appendix 2: Fretting and tuning the lute, by David Mitchell	450
Bibliography and finding list	460
General Index	497
Index of Works by John Dowland	516

Illustrations

Letter from John Dowland to Sir Robert Cecil, dated November 10th, 1595, now in the Library of Hatfield House.	following page 40
Contemporary portraits by unknown artists of Robert Devereux, second Earl of Essex, and Robert Cecil, first Earl of Salisbury.	40
Florence and Nuremberg. From Braun and Hohenbergius, Civitates Orbis Terrarum (1573-1618).	216
Cassel and Elsenor. From Braun and Hohenbergius, Civitates Orbis Terrarum (1573-1618).	216
Two views of Westminster; part of Westminster with Parliament House, Westminster Hall and the Abbey; and New Palace Yard, with Westminster Hall and the Clock House. Etchings by Wenceslaus Hollar (1607-1677).	216
John Dowland's signature on a receipt dated July 28th, 1600; and 'musical point' in the Album Amicorum of Johannes Cellarius.	216
A six-course lute as shown in Adrian Le Roy's A briefe and easie Instruction (1568).	344
MS. 1610.1. f.22v. 'Lady Hunsdons Allmande', written in Dowland's own hand.	344
Signatures from MS. 1610.1.; and signature of Dame Ann Bayldon, widow of Sir Francis Bayldon of Kippax, on a document dated February 17th, 1624/5.	344
Christian IV of Denmark, by Peter Isacsh, 1612, in Frederiksborg Castle	344
Maurice, Landgrave of Hesse, engraved by W. Kilian, in the Staatliche Kunstsammlungen , Kassel; and Sir Henry Lee, by A. Mor, 1568.	440
Memorial portrait of Sir Henry Unton by an unknown artist.	440

- Portrait of Theophilus Howard, second Earl of Suffolk, by Biagio
Rebecca, at Audley End. following page 440
- Portrait of Sir Robert Sidney by C. Jansen, at Penshurst Place. 440