

Contents

List of Figures	xi
Acknowledgements	xii
Introduction: anti-racist social work as contested terrain	1
1 The shifting terrain of racist dynamics and anti-racism	7
Introduction	7
Defining racism and unpacking racist dynamics	7
Multidimensional racist dynamics	12
Racialisation as a socially constructed process	17
Reflecting upon unitary identities	22
The changing faces of racism	26
Barriers to anti-racist approaches: wheel of avoidance strategies	28
Racist dynamics permeate social work policies and practice	31
Anti-racist social work	33
Putting it into practice	35
Further reading	35
2 Racialised identities	36
Introduction	36
Identity formation involves power relations	36
Identity and organisational change	41
‘Othering’ difference	42
Unitary identities permeate social work practice, education and theories	44
Narratives of belonging and ownership of place and space	50
Racialised power relations in configuring responses to ‘difference’	53

Racialised identities in popular discourses	56
Putting it into practice	62
Further reading	62
3 Deconstructing racist policies and practices in social work	63
Racial inequalities in the British welfare state	63
Racism impedes social work's capacity to promote well-being	71
Shifting educational frameworks	75
(Re)engaging in anti-racist social work	81
New directions for the social work curriculum	84
Putting it into practice	85
Further reading	85
4 Anti-racist social work with children and families	86
Introduction	86
Configuring the black family	87
White social workers' intervention with black children	94
Fear of 'race' issues leads to inappropriate interventions for black children	100
Clientising black women through interactive processes: sexism and racism	105
Social workers' legacies of oppression	108
Social work intervention with young black people	109
Conclusions	112
Putting it into practice	113
Further reading	113
5 Anti-racist social work with adults and older people	114
Introduction	114
Vulnerability and dependency	116
Black elders are part of mainstream society	119
Social work interventions with older black people	121
Community care	126
Meeting the diverse needs of black elders from different ethnic groups	128
Carers: a diverse group	130
Conclusions	135
Putting it into practice	136
Further reading	136

6 Anti-racist social work with offenders	137
Introduction	137
Reconfiguring deviancy: who are black offenders?	139
Racialised profiling of offenders in the 'war on terror'	142
The state, justice and institutional atrocities	146
Employment in the criminal justice system	149
The criminal justice system discriminates against black offenders	150
Institutional racism in the British criminal justice system	151
Provisions for black offenders	152
Authoritarian welfarism and punitive approaches to offenders	153
Returning offenders to society	155
Institutional racism and offences of racial hatred	159
Rehabilitation or punishment	160
Redistributive justice	161
Critiques of anti-racist approaches	162
Putting it into practice	164
Further reading	164
7 Anti-racist social work with (im)migrants, asylum-seekers and refugees	165
Introduction	165
Shifting discourses on identity and immigration	167
Re-territorialising narratives of place and space	169
Language exclusion	174
Racist practices, (im)migrants, asylum-seekers and refugees	176
Social work interventions with (im)migrants, asylum-seekers and refugees	188
Scarce welfare provisions	189
Services to asylum seekers and refugees	190
Putting it into practice	194
Further reading	194
8 Anti-racist community work	196
Introduction	196
(Re)configuring difference in poor communities	198
Stereotyping communities: violence, crime and substitution strategies	203

Resisting racial oppression, everyday life practices and social structures	205
Social work interventions in communities	211
Social work interventions in instances of inter-communal strife	215
Implicating personal lives in adverse constructions of communities	218
Putting it into practice	219
Further reading	219
9 Conclusions: towards practice in a racially equal society	220
Introduction	220
Transforming social work theories and practice	221
Anti-racist social work needs broader social change	222
Conclusion	226
Bibliography	228
Author index	256
Subject index	261

| Figures

1.1	Dimensions of racism	13
1.2	Racialised power relations	17
1.3	Wheel of avoidance strategies	30
2.1	Narratives of place and space	51
4.1	Convergent and divergent needs	103
5.1	Holistic cost-benefit analysis	132
6.1	Convergent and divergent needs amongst offenders	154