

Contents

I. INTRODUCTION AND LINGUISTIC BACKGROUND

1. Overview, 3

The Theory, Its Aims and Background, 3

2. Intellectual Context of the Theory, 14

Cognitive Anthropology, 14

Natural Kinds, 15

Cultural Models and Schemas, 17

Linguistics, 20

Universal Semantic Primitives, 20

Roschian Prototype Theory, 21

Lakoff and Langacker on Metaphor, 22

Other Issues in Contemporary Semantic Discourse, 23

Psychological Sources, 23

Some Thoughts on the Current Moment, 25

3. Saussurean Roots, Structural Linguistics, and Basic Concepts, 31

Saussure, 31

Langue and Parole, 31

Signs: Signifiers and Signifieds, 33

Langue as a System, 35

Arbitrariness, 36

Words in Semiology, 36

Referents and Signifieds: My Usage, 37

Prague Componential Analysis versus American Descriptive Models, 37

American Descriptive Linguistics, 37

Prague Componential Analysis, 39

II. THE ETHNOSCIENCE TRADITION

4. Defining Structures—Taxonomies and Componential Paradigms, 47

Ethnoscience, 47

Basic Units, 47

Segregates, 47

Opposition and Inclusion, 48

Structures of Opposition and Inclusion, 48

Semantic Relations among Segregates, 48

Componential Analysis, 50

Conklin: Hanunóo Pronouns, 50

Lounsbury: Iroquois Kinship, 52

5. Componential Analysis: The English Kinterms Example, 55

Wallace and Atkins, 55

Romney and D'Andrade, 58

Comparison, 59

Romney and D'Andrade's Comparison, 59

Kronenfeld's Discussion of the Comparison, 59

Further Issues, 61

Later Romney Work, 64

Psychological Reality, 65

III. EXPLANATORY PRINCIPLES

6. Conjunctivity, 73

Lounsbury, Mathematics, and Elegance, 73

Bruner, Goodnow, and Austin, 74

Kronenfeld Classroom Experiments, 74

Categorizations, 75

Nerlove and Romney, 79

Reconciliation of Nerlove and Romney with Romney and D'Andrade, 85

7. Marking, 89

Prague origins, 89

Greenberg's Generalization, 90

Semantic Marking, 94

Measurement Terms, 95

Cows, 97

Cats and Dogs, 98

Men and Women, 101

Marking Hierarchies, 103
Back to Siblings, 105
Berlin: Folk Taxonomies, 106

8. Information Processing Limits, 114

Miller's Findings, 114

    The Problem: The Span of Absolute Judgment, 115

    Solution 1: Increasing Dimensionality, 115

    Solution 2: Sequencing, 116

    Connecting Miller's Different Sevens, 117

    Kronenfeld's Restatement of Miller's Findings, 119

    Miller Summary, 120

Bruner, Goodnow, and Austin's Version, 121

    Bruner, Goodnow, and Austin's Experiments and Findings, 122

    Discussion of Bruner, Goodnow, and Austin, 124

Background: Taxonomies versus Paradigms in Anthropology, 127

Implications of Miller's Work for Anthropology, 129

    Taxonomies and Paradigms: Implications of Miller's Findings, 129

    Taxonomies and Paradigms: Other Factors, 134

    Anthropological Studies of Decision Making, 136

    Syntactic Structures, 138

    Summary, 141

IV. SEMANTIC EXTENSION

9. Prior Extensionist Work, 147

Why an Extensionist Theory is Needed, 147

    Limitations of Componential Analysis, 147

    Limitations of Category Grading Variant, 147

    A General Look at the Prototype/Extension View, 150

Semantic Extension: Basics, 151

Berlin and Kay: Basic Color Terms, 151

Lounsbury: Crow and Omaha, 154

Whither Conjunctivity?, 157

More Recent Semantic Extension, 159

Kronenfeld: Fanti Kinship, 159

Kronenfeld: Kinship Comparison, 163

Basso: Apache Pickup Partinomy, 165

Kempton: Mexican Ollas, 166

10. The Theory, 171

Cores and Universals, 172

The Importance of Cores, 172

Learning Langue: Core Senses and Extension, 173

Form and Function, 176

The Domain of Books: A Brief Example, 176

Assessing Similarity, 178

Paradigmatic Relations, 179

Metaphor, 179

Creating New Langue, 184

Etymologies and Culture History, 186

Functional Relations and Knowledge Structures, 188

Some Remaining Questions, 190

V. EXTENDED APPLICATIONS*11. Examples, 197

Drinking Vessel Study, 197

Framework, 197

Design, 198

Results, 199

Discussion, 199

Blackfeet "Full Bloods" versus "Mixed Bloods," 203

Protestants and Catholics, Puritans and Anglicans: Religious Controversy in Reformation England, 209

What Semantics Can and Cannot Do, 212

The Structure and Content of the Oppositions, 213

How Religious Cores Get Their Political Overtones: Church Structure and Politics, 215

"Men's Work" versus "Women's Work" in Los Angeles, 218

The Cultural Frame, 221

Reasoning and Negotiation about Tasks, 222

Some Thoughts on Ethnicity, 224

Identification, 226

12. Toward a Theory of the Semantics of Words, 232*Appendix: Piagetian Schemas, 237*Bibliography, 243*Index, 253