

Contents

Foreword by Vincent Scully	page 6
Introduction: Jerusalem at the Crossroads	9
I The realities of the site	11
The Old City and the Temple Mount
II The site and its symbols: images from the past	35
Pictorial representations and plans
III Two philosophies	57
The deductive and inductive approach · Ways of thought and perception · Attitude towards history · Aesthetics · Attitude towards values · Jerusalem · The method of visual analysis · Empirical Jerusalem
IV The real and true city of Jerusalem	87
The Jerusalem Committee's reaction to the Master Plan · The fate of the Master Plan · How planning works in Jerusalem · Strategies · Attitudes and priorities · Tourism · Housing policy · Open space and public land policy · High building policy · Road policy · Aesthetic policies · Approval of plans: legal procedures · The role of the public · The official planners: the Urban Planning Unit · The Central Business District Plan · The Old City Plan · Abu-Tor · St John's · Yemin Moshe · The monsters that fell · Public action · King David Hotel · The Hyatt House Hotel · Alternative approaches · High buildings and open spaces · Growth rate
Epilogue: the Jerusalem Committee 1973	124
Acknowledgments and Sources of Illustrations	127
Index	128