CONTENTS

Series editor's introduction ix
Acknowledgements xiii

Introduction 1
John Gray and Brian Wilcox

PART 1 SETTING FRAMEWORKS 9

1 The quality of schooling: frameworks for judgement 11
John Gray

2 Developing LEA frameworks for monitoring and evaluation from research on school effectiveness 31
John Gray, David Jesson and Nicholas Sime

PART 2 GATHERING 'HARD EVIDENCE' 47

3 HMI's interpretations of schools' examination results (with postscripts for the 1990s) 49
John Gray and Valerie Hannon

4 Performance indicators: flourish or perish? 70
John Gray and Brian Wilcox
5 Developing value-added approaches to school evaluation: the experiences of three LEAs 88
John Gray
6 Estimating differences in the examination performances of secondary schools in six LEAs: a multi-level approach to school effectiveness 105
John Gray, David Jesson and Nicholas Sime

PART 3 THE CONTRIBUTION OF SCHOOL INSPECTION TO SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT 131

7 Inspection and school improvement: rhetoric and experience from the bridge 133
John Gray and Brian Wilcox
8 Reactions to inspection: a study of three variants 149
Brian Wilcox and John Gray
9 The methodologies of school inspection: issues and dilemmas 167
John Gray and Brian Wilcox
10 The inspectors recommended ... a follow-up study in six secondary schools 185
John Gray and Brian Wilcox

PART 4 LOOKING TO THE FUTURE 215

11 The statistics of school improvement: establishing the agenda 217
John Gray, David Jesson, Harvey Goldstein, Keith Hedger and Jon Rasbash
12 The challenge of turning round ineffective schools 241
John Gray and Brian Wilcox

References 259
Subject index 270
Name index 281