

Contents

Part I

Charts	xvii
1. Introduction	1
2. Who Lived During the Final Amoraic Generations?	12
3. "Rav Ashi and Ravina are the End of Hora'ah "; The Theory of Hanokh Albeck	32
4. Mar bar Rav Ashi and his Literary Contribution ; The Theory of Avinoam Cohen	35
5. Characteristics of the Final Generations of Amoraim	38
Technical Terminology	38
The Non-Integrative Character of the Final Generations of Amoraim	40
Appearances with Rav Ashi and the later Ravina	42
Argumentation (Part I)	43
Objections, Questions, and Supports	43
Prescriptive Statements	46
Interpretative or Explanatory Comments	46
Argumentation (Part II)	47
Argumentational Responses	47
6. The Final Generations of Amoraim: Transition or Continuity?	51

Part II

7. The Relationship Between the Final Generations of Amoraim and the Stam, and its Impact on the Question of Redaction ..	66
Implicit Stam Commentary	70
Explicit Stam Commentary	87
Do the Final Generations of Amoraim Refer to Earlier Stamot?	90
Appendix I: Analysis of Sugyot	95
Appendix II: Appearances with Rav Ashi and the later Ravina	103
Appendix III: Objections	106
Appendix IV: Questions	111

Appendix V:	Prescriptive Statements	114
Appendix VI:	Interpretative or Explanatory Comments	117
Appendix VII:	Argumentational Responses	120
Appendix VIII:	Perennial Students in the Fourth Amoraic Generation	123
Appendix IX:	Statements by Group 2 Amoraim	126
Appendix X:	Statements by Group 1 Amoraim	134
Appendix XI:	The Dependent Character of the Group 1 and Group 2 Amoraim	140
Appendix XII:	The Group 2 Amoraim: Technical Terminology ..	146
Appendix XIII:	Chronological Discontinuity in the Implicit Stam Commentary on Group A and Group B Amoraim	147
Notes		151
Bibliography		201
Indexes		205