

Contents

Figures	vii
Acknowledgements	viii
1. Getting to rub two words together (Getting started with language)	1
2. Catching fire (Starting to make fast progress)	12
3. Do we teach children to speak? (B. F. Skinner and behaviourism)	30
4. Learning through touching and feeling (Jean Piaget: learning is based on handling objects)	44
5. What goes on in the mind? (Mentalism as a school of thought. Noam Chomsky)	62
6. A close look at Chomsky's theories (Some of Chomsky's work on language acquisition)	83
7. Do we help children to speak? ('Motherese' or child-directed speech)	104
8. Learning how to mean (Michael Halliday's views on how language develops)	129
9. The two hemispheres of the brain – A (Their functions in relation to language)	151
10. The two hemispheres of the brain – B (Modern discoveries about them)	169
11. The bounds of language acquisition (What is and what isn't natural language acquisition?)	183

12. Was Dr. Dolittle lying? (Animals and language)	201
13. 'Bootstrapping' – A (New knowledge about infant knowledge)	216
14. 'Bootstrapping' – B (Bootstrapping in vocabulary)	227
15. The best of both worlds? (The work of Annette Karmiloff-Smith)	240
16. Conclusion (Drawing the threads together)	255
References	261
Index	273

Figures

4.1	Piaget: simple reversibility test	53
4.2	Piaget: test for conservation of discontinuous quantity: lines of same length	54
4.3	Piaget: test for conservation of discontinuous quantity: lines of different length	54
4.4	Piaget: test for conservation of continuous quantity	55
4.5	Piaget: test of seriation	57
8.1	Halliday: Nigel at 12 months	140
9.1	The two hemispheres of the human brain, viewed from above	152
9.2	The left side of the human brain, showing Broca's and Wernicke's areas	155
11.1	American Sign Language: minimal contrasts involving hand configuration, place of articulation, and movement	187
12.1	Communication among bees: the orientation of the dance under different conditions	203
13.1	Infant perception test: schematic depictions of the habituation display, and the test displays of a partly occluded object	218
14.1	The 'basic' level in hierarchy	234