Preface	vii	4.4 Kerogen	132
Acknowledgements	ix	4.5 Catagenesis and metagenesis	144
1 Carbon, the Earth and life	1	4.6 Temporal and geographical distribution of fossil organic carbon	162
1.1 Carbon and the basic requirements of life	1	5 Chemical stratigraphic concepts and tools	166
1.2 Chemical elements, simple compounds and their origins	2	5.1 Biologically mediated transformations	166
1.3 The origin of life	5	5.2 Examples of source indicators in Recent sediments	169
1.4 Evolution of life and the atmosphere	15	5.3 Diagenesis at the molecular level	174
1.5 Major contributors to sedimentary organic matter	23	5.4 Source and environmental indicators in ancient sediments and oil	196
2 Chemical composition of organic matter	30	5.5 Thermal maturity and molecular transformations	207
2.1 Structure of natural products	30	5.6 Palaeotemperature and age measurement	212
2.2 Carbohydrates	35	5.7 Maturity of ancient sedimentary organic matter	221
2.3 Amino acids and proteins	40	5.8 Isotopic palaeontology	234
2.4 Lipids	43	6 The carbon cycle and climate	246
2.5 Lignins, tannins and related compounds	62	6.1 Global carbon cycle	246
2.6 Nucleotides and nucleic acids	67	6.2 Changes in carbon reservoirs over geological time	254
2.7 Geochemical implications of compositional variation	69	6.3 Palaeoclimatic variations	263
3 Production, preservation and degradation of organic matter	71	6.4 Isotopic excursions at period boundaries	280
3.1 How and why organic-rich deposits form	71	6.5 Human influence on the carbon cycle	285
3.2 Controls on primary production	71	7 Anthropogenic carbon and the environment	295
3.3 Preservation and degradation of organic matter	89	7.1 Introduction	295
3.4 Depositional environments associated with accumulation of organic matter	109	7.2 Halocarbons	295
4 Long-term fate of organic matter in the geosphere	117	7.3 Hydrocarbon pollution in aquatic environments	298
4.1 Diagenesis	117	7.4 Endocrine-disrupting chemicals	304
4.2 Humic material	119	7.5 Environmental behaviour of selected xenobiotic compounds	308
4.3 Coal	122

7.6 Factors affecting the fate of anthropogenic components	317	Appendix 3 Geological time scale	324
Appendix 1 SI units used in this book	322	References	325
Appendix 2 SI unit prefixes	323	Index	363
