

CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS IX

INTRODUCTION

Liberalism and the Problem of Tradition in American Literature xi

PART I

The Nineteenth-Century Context

1

Elusive Republicanism:
Thomas Jefferson and the Foundations of American Politics
in Gore Vidal's Burr 3

2

"Our Divine Equality": Russell Banks's Cloudsplitter and the Redemptive
Liberalism of the Lincoln Republic 30

PART II

The Twentieth-Century Context

3

Ideas in Modulation:
Marxism and Liberal Revaluation
in Lionel Trilling's The Middle of the Journey 63

4

Liberalism Betrayed:

Neoconservatism and the Postwar American Left in Philip Roth's American Trilogy 96

CONCLUSION

Writing the Republic:

Moby Dick and the Form of American Political Fiction 169

Notes 187

Bibliography 205

Index 221