Contents

About the Author
Preface
Chronology

Chapter One
The French in Structuralism 1

What Is a Structure?

A Philosophy or an Ideology?

Psycholinguistic Modeling

Mathematics and Structure

The Pursuit of Difference

Chapter Two
Lévi-Strauss and the Elusive Human Spirit 21

In Search of "the Atom of Kinship Systems"

Mythologizing and Structuralism

What Is Structural History?

From the Outside to the Inside

The Demythologizing of Culture

Chapter Three
Barthes and Reading Obliquely 33

Focusing on Differences Rather than Repetition

Structure as Grammar

Decoding the Homo Significans

Larvatus Prodeo

The Ultimate Irony of Desire

Chapter Four
Lacan and the Purloined Letter 47

The Unconscious Structured like a Language

The Rejection of Homo Psychologicus

Triangulating the Model

Truth as a Psychological Rebus

The Subversion of Phallogocentrism

Chapter Five
Foucault and the Revelation of Power 60

In the Margins of History

Archaeology and Knowledge

The Political Subversion of Power

"Ceci n'est pas une pipe"

The Philosopher as Cartographer

Chapter Six
Althusser and Antiphilosophical Philosophy 75

History without Subject or Goal(s)

Marx's Epistemological Break

The Driving Force of History

Historical Materialism as a Science

Toward a New Philosophy

Chapter Seven
Alternate Sciences of Politics 88

The Ironies of Althusser

The New Philosophers and the Master Thinkers

Deleuze and Serres Reinvigorate the Scientific Spirit

Chapter Eight
Toward a Universal Grammar 98

Jean Dubois and Syntagmatic Structures

A. J. Greimas and a Place for Semantics

Rhetoric and the Acts of Speech

Tzvetan Todorov and the Development of Narratology

The Vernant Group and the Contexts of Myth

Chapter Nine
First-Order Narratives 111

Jean Piaget: The Claim for the Sciences

Lucien Goldmann and Class as a Significant Structure

Girard and the Mythical Triangulation of Mimetic Desire

Chapter Ten
Mapping the Path Taken 121

The Ideologists despite Themselves

The Geometries of Space

The Model of Scientific Reason

The Semiotic Web

Notes and References 131
Annotated Bibliography 152
Index 156