

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	7
Preface	9
Introduction	13
Chapter 1    Netherlandish and Italian sources for painted enamels: fifteenth and early sixteenth centuries	21
Chapter 2    Limoges painting (painters' enamelling) from c.1500 to c.1765	28
Chapter 3    Enamel portrait miniatures: seventeenth to nineteenth centuries	44
Chapter 4    Genevan styles for objects of vertu: eighteenth and nineteenth centuries	63
Chapter 5    Russian painted enamels: seventeenth to nineteenth centuries	75
Chapter 6    English painted enamels: Battersea enamels of the 1750s and their successors	83
Chapter 7    Painted enamels of China: the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries	95
Chapter 8    English enamel artists of the late eighteenth century and nineteenth: Henry Bone and his followers	106
Chapter 9    The revival of Limoges painting in the nineteenth century	116
Chapter 10   Imitations, copies and fakes: the nineteenth century	129
Chapter 11   Viennese painted enamels: eighteenth century to early twentieth	141
Chapter 12   New techniques, materials and applications: the second half of the nineteenth century and the early twentieth	150
Chapter 13   The Art Enamellers: pictorial enamels, 1890s to c.1930	164
Biographies	174
Appendix 1   The goldsmith–enamellers' workshop processes	197
Appendix 2   Notes and quotations on the chemistry of the materials, and some underlying factors of enamelling on metal	203
Glossary	207
Notes	214
Bibliography	226
Index	236