

CONTENTS

List of Figures and Tables	viii
Introduction to the First Edition	ix
Introduction to the Second Edition	xii
Introduction to the Third Edition, and Acknowledgements	xv
1 Setting the Scene	1
Individualization, neo-liberalism and 'extreme capitalism'	2
Summary of chapters	6
2 Approaches to Class and Stratification Analysis	8
Introduction	8
Debating inequality	9
Theories of social differentiation	12
'Class', a multifaceted concept	15
Social theory and social change	16
The wider critique of 'class analysis'	21
Action and structure, economy and culture	24
3 Class Analysis: The Classic Inheritance and its Development in the Twentieth Century	27
Introduction	27
Marx	28

Weber	33
Class and sociology after the Second World War	35
The development of theoretically informed accounts of the 'class structure'	36
Class and history	38
The intertwining of structure and action, economy and culture	41
Class, inequality and the 'cultural turn'	43
Social class, social geography and the turn to 'realism'	44
Conclusions	47
4 Measuring the 'Class Structure'	49
Introduction	49
Occupations	50
Descriptive occupational and status hierarchies and the analysis of 'social classes'	52
Theoretical ('relational') class schemes: Wright	56
Theoretical ('relational') class schemes: Goldthorpe	61
The ONS-SEC	63
Conceptual basis of the ONS-SEC	65
Conclusions	68
5 An Untimely Prediction of Death and a Timely Renewal	71
Introduction	71
Changes in the structure of work and employment	73
The expansion of women's employment	76
Class, politics and action	79
Farewell to class societies?	82
Where do we go from here?	88
New and revised approaches	89
Conclusions	92
6 Class and Culture: The Ethnography of Class	94
Introduction	94
Social status, social hierarchies and social citizenship	95

Bourdieu	99
The 'new middle classes'	103
The contemporary ethnography of the working class	109
Discussion and conclusions: a new synthesis?	112
7 Families, Social Mobility and Educational Achievement	117
Introduction: class and the family	117
Social mobility	118
Declining social mobility	125
Secondary and higher education in Britain	126
Explaining class differences in educational achievement	127
What is to be done?	132
Conclusions	134
8 Widening Inequalities and Debates on 'Class': Discussion and Conclusions	136
Introduction	136
From the 'underclass' debate to social exclusion	138
Widening inequality	144
Back to definitions: the approach developed in this book	150
The possibility of countervailing processes	152
Notes	156
References	164
Index	180

FIGURES AND TABLES

Figures

4.1	Wright’s second class scheme: relations of exploitation	59
4.2	Goldthorpe’s analytical scheme of employment relationships	66
7.1	Interdependencies in ‘class analysis’	134

Tables

4.1	The ONS-SEC	64
4.2	Collapsed versions of ONS-SEC	65
4.3	ONS-SEC categories and employment relationships	67