

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	vii
List of Figures	ix
Color Plates	xvii
Introduction	1

PART ONE

ENGENDERING THE NATION-STATE

1. Equality, Modernity, and Gender in Chinese Nationalism	19
John Fitzgerald
2. Banknote Design as a Battlefield of Gender Politics and National Representation in Meiji Japan	55
Melanie Trede
3. The Culturally Contested Student Body: Nü Xuesheng at the Turn of the Twentieth Century	105
Joan Judge

PART TWO

WOMAN AS LITERARY METAPHOR

4. Love Martyrs and Love Cheaters at the End of the Chinese Empire	135
Keith McMahon
5. Gender and Formation of the Modern Literary Field in Japan: Women and the Position of the Novel, 1880s-1930s	143
Tomi Suzuki
6. Failed Modern Girls in Early-Twentieth-Century China	179
Tze-lan D. Sang

PART THREE

PERFORMING ARTS AND GENDER ROLE-PLAYING

7. Politics, Art, and Eroticism: The Female Impersonator
as the National Cultural Symbol of Republican China 205
Catherine Vance Yeh
8. Two Actresses in Three Acts: Gender, Theater, and Nationalism in Modern Japan. 241
Ayako Kano

PART FOUR

ART, SEXUALITY, AND NATIONAL EROTICS

9. From Madonna to Femme Fatale: Gender Play in Japanese National Painting. 265
Doris Croissant
10. Nationally Naked? The Female Nude in Japanese Oil
Painting and Posters (1890s-1920s). 307
Jaqueline Berndt
11. The Allure of a "Woman in Chinese Dress":
Representation of the Other in Imperial Japan 347
Ikeda Shinobu
12. Utagawa Shunga, Kuki's 'Chic,' and the Construction of a National Erotics in Japan 383
Joshua S. Mostow
- Contributors 425
- Index 429