

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	13
PREFACE	15
 Chapter I
FROM THE BEGINNING OF THE CHARTIST MOVEMENT TO THE FIRST MEETING OF THE CHARTIST PARLIAMENT (1834–1839)	17
Revolutionary unionism after the Reform Act (1832–1834)	19
The new Poor Law and its effect	24
J. Fielden and R. Oastler	29
J.R. Stephens, the anti-Poor Law agitation, and Chartism	31
Feergus O'Connor, the anti-Poor Law agitation, and the first years of Chartism	40
'The Northern Star'	51
O'Connor and Chartism in 1838	55
'Chartist schoolmaster' James Bronterre O'Brien, the theorist of Chartism	68
The London Working Men's Association. W. Lovett and the People's Charter	77
G. Julian Harney and the London Democratic Association	90
The Birmingham Political Union. Thomas Attwood	97
 Chapter II
THE DECISIVE YEAR OF CHARTISM: 1839	105
The opening phase of the First National Chartist Convention: February 4 to May 13, 1839	105
Government and police actions during the Chartist period	122
From May to December 1839: The Convention in Birmingham. Dissolution of the Convention. The Newport rising	138

Chapter III

FROM THE FOUNDATION OF THE NATIONAL CHARTER ASSOCIATION TO THE 'SPRINGTIME OF NATIONS'

1840—41: Formation of the National Charter Association. Elections in 1841	155
1842: Sturge's Complete Suffrage Movement. The Anti-Corn Law League and Chartism. The second petition and the 'Plug Plot'	172
The anti-Corn Law Movement and Chartism	175
1843—1846: O'Connor's Land Plan. The Rebecca riots and the Irish question	189
Chartism and internationalism	204
EPILOGUE	227

Appendix

I. HUNGARIAN PAPERS ON CHARTISM AND ENGLAND	230
1. 'Jelenkor', a Hungarian weekly founded by Count István Széchenyi, on the radical movements in England	230
2. 'Jelenkor' on the Chartist movements	231
3. 'Jelenkor' on the relationship of the Chartists and the government	232
4. A conservative Hungarian biweekly 'Világ' on the English Tories	232
5. From articles in Lajos Kossuth's 'Pesti Hírlap' on the state of affairs in England	234
6. The Corn Law and the Anti-Corn Law League	236
7. A revolutionary Hungarian daily paper on the London events of April 1848	238
8. The Chartist meeting on April 10th, 1848, as reported in Kossuth's daily	239
9. Emil Ábrányi's article on the revolutionary situation in 'Kossuth Hírlapja'	241
10. The situation in Ireland	242
11. On the revolutions in Europe	243
II. CHARTISTS IN FAVOUR OF HUNGARY	244
1. G.J. Harney's mourning for Henry Hetherington	244
2. Extract from G.J. Harney's article on the fall of the European revolutions	245
3. Report on the meeting for Hungary held in the City Hall of Glasgow	246

4. J.B. O'Brien's letter on Kossuth, Mazzini, and Ledru-Rollin, addressed to the editor of the Political Instructor	247
5. E. Jones on the Hungarian Revolution of 1848/49	250
 III. THE MILITARY AND THE CHARTISTS	 254
1. The Marquis of Londonderry on the use of military forces against the Chartists	254
2. Extract from the Hon. Ch. Spring Rice's account of the Leeds disturbances	256
 BIBLIOGRAPHY	 259
Index of Names	267
Index of Places	273