

Contents

Preface	Page ix
1. The size of the communist phenomenon	I
Youth Organizations, 6; Trade Unions, 8; Front Organizations, 10; The Press, 17; The Communist Electorate, 20; How the Communist Electorate Varies, 28
2. Who are the communists?	36
Regions, 40; Age, 46; Sex, 49; Religion, 53; Social Class, 58; The New Classes, 73; Intellectuals and Artists, 76; Political Psychology, 83
3. Structure and power in communist parties	96
Formal Structure, 98; The Cell, 99; The Militants and Permanent Officials, 105; Selection and Training, 108; The Intermediate Levels, 111; The Seats of Power, 114; The Secretary-General, 116; The Secret Structures, 121; Finances, 126; Purges, Trials, Dissidence, 130; Dynamics of Power in CPs, 140
4. The communists and neo-capitalist democracy	160
Economic Policies, 160; The Communists and Parliamentary Democracy, 167; The Will to Govern, 172; The Peaceful Road to Power, 173; Dictatorship of the Proletariat, 175; The Verdict of the Electorate, 177; Political Adventurism, 179; European Unity and Defence, 183; Political Alliances, 191
Index	207