

Contents

| | |
|---|-----|
| Preface | vii |
| Abbreviations | xii |
| Introduction | I |
| For the General Reader | I |
| The Three Mirrors | 4 |
| Outline | 15 |
| Method | 16 |
| Chapter One. Narcissus | 20 |
| Narcisus | 22 |
| The Romance of the Rose | 52 |
| The Mirror of the Ideal and the Mirror of Matter: Jean de Meun and the Ovide Moralisé | 59 |
| Chapter Two. The Mirror in the Provençal Lyric | 69 |
| Guiraut de Calanso, “Los Grieus Dezirs” | 71 |
| The Double Consciousness of the Courtly Lover | 82 |
| Bernart de Ventadorn, “Can Vei la Lauzeta Mover” | 92 |
| Chapter Three. Heinrich von Morungen and the Mirror of the Audience | 107 |
| The Audience | 109 |
| The Lyric’s “Two Spaces” | 117 |
| The Poet’s Isolation | 132 |
| The Poet’s Hope to Re-create the Image | 142 |

Contents

| | |
|---|-----|
| The Mirror | 151 |
| Summary | 160 |
| Appendix to Chapter Three | 161 |
| Chapter Four. Ulrich von Lichtenstein and the Mirror of the Actual World | 167 |
| The Inclusion of the Actual World (The Venus Jour- ney) | 175 |
| The Inadequacy of the Courtly Ideal | 180 |
| The Mirror in Ulrich's Lyrics | 186 |
| Epilogue. The De Trinitate of St. Augustine and the Lyric Mirror | 207 |
| Preparation | 213 |
| Mens, Notitia, Amor | 217 |
| Illumination | 221 |
| The Word | 223 |
| The Hypostatization of Resemblance | 233 |
| The "Translation" | 236 |
| Memoria, Intelligentia, Voluntas | 243 |
| The Mirror | 248 |
| The Courtly Life Described in Augustinian Terms | 252 |
| List of Works Cited | 259 |
| Index | 267 |