

Contents

Acknowledgments	9
Introduction	13
1. Anna Seghers: A Woman's Voice in Literature and History	22
2. Literature, History and Mnemonic Voids	37
History, Literature and Past Actuality	38
Silence and Mnemonic Voids	39
An Attempt to Pierce Silence	41
Text and Reader: A Matter of Social Discourse	43
3. Silence at the Heart of Postwar Discourse	49
The Emergence of Silence	51
The Perseverance of Silence	57
The Past as Silence: A Generational Discourse	60
4. History, Literature, and the Daily Lives of Ordinary People	72
Piercing the Silence of Everyday Life	73
Ceremony and Mnemonic Construction	76
Piercing the Silence: Women and Daily Life	83
Seghers' Literature: Mnemonic Flashes of Daily Life	85
5. Confronting the Silence	88
Women in Nazi Society	89
Mothers in Hitler's Germany	93
Women as Nazi Sympathizers	121
Reflections on Daily Life and the Banality of Evil	143
Conclusion	146
Notes	151
Bibliography	195
Index	207