

TABLE OF CONTENTS

PREFACE.....	9
INVITATION	15
CHAPTER ONE
BACKGROUND AND FRAMEWORK	19
1. The Purpose	19
2. The Distinctive Relationship of Literature to Politics	22
3. The French-Colonial Connection and Native America.....	26
4. Derrida's Deconstructionism and Rousseau's Rhetoric	43
5. Summary	53
CHAPTER TWO
THE LATE COLONIAL AND REVOLUTIONARY PERIOD	57
1. Prelude	57
2. Thomas Paine: Pamphleteer	58
Government, Society, Individual Rights	59
3. Benjamin Franklin: Yankee Empiricist.....	69
Nature.....	73
Human Nature	77
Society.....	80
The Social Contract	82
4. Thomas Jefferson: Realist and Rousseauian Spirit	85
Nature.....	87
Human Nature	89
Society.....	90
The Social Contract	92
5. The Connecticut Wits: The Reaction of the Educated Class to Revolutionary Events.....	95
The Connecticut Wits	98
The Influence of Yale College.....	98
Nature.....	101
Human Nature	103
Society.....	106
The Social Contract	109

6. Royall Tyler: The Origins of American National Character	112
Tyler as a Paradigm of Rousseau's Untutored Genius	120
Tyler and Originality	125
7. Hugh Henry Brackenridge: The Quixotic Middle Way	129
Politician and Educator in the Rousseauian Mien	132
Education and The Natural Goodness of Man	138
8. The American Literary Threshold	141

CHAPTER THREE

THE EARLY ROMANTICS	149
1. Presentation	149
2. Philip Morin Freneau: America's First Poetic Spirit	153
Nature	158
Human Nature	161
Politics and Society	162
3. William Cullen Bryant: Poet and Social Reformer	166
Nature	169
Human Nature	176
Politics and Society	177
4. James Fenimore Cooper: The Frontier as History and Myth	184
Nature	189
Human Nature	191
5. Washington Irving: The Romantic as Internationalist	198
Nature	204
Human Nature	207
Politics and Society	208
6. Charles Brockden Brown: The Dark Side of Romanticism	211
Literary Independence in the Domestication of Rousseauian Romantic Themes	214

CHAPTER FOUR

THE AMERICAN RENAISSANCE:

TRANSCENDENTALISM AND SYMBOLICAL IDEALISM	221
1. Delineation	221
2. Henry David Thoreau: Yankee Naturalist and Individualist	223
Nature	228
Human Nature	232
Society	239
The Social Contract	247

3. Ralph Waldo Emerson: Naturalist and Seer	277
Nature.....	285
Human Nature	292
Society.....	299
The Social Contract	304
4. (Sarah) Margaret Fuller Ossoli: New England Feminist.....	309
Nature and Human Nature	312
Society and the Social Contract.....	315
Rousseau and the German Connection to Fuller	317
5. Theodore Parker: Last of the Puritan Preachers.....	320
Nature and Human Nature	321
Society and the Social Contract.....	325
Rousseau and the German Connection to Parker	329
6. Walt Whitman: Democrat, Poet, Prophet	332
Nature and Human Nature	333
Society and the Social Contract.....	338
Rousseau and the German Connection to Whitman	343
7. Herman Melville: Rousseauian Quester of Symbolical Idealism	345
Moby-Dick and Rousseau's Philosophy	353
The Confidence-Man: His Masquerade: A Simulacrum	359
Nature.....	360
Human Nature	362
Society and the Social Contract.....	364
Billy Budd and Rousseau's Citizen in a Closed Society	368

CHAPTER FIVE

RÉSUMÉ.....	371
1. Specific Conclusions.....	375
2. The Reiseweg of Rousseau's Spirit	383

SELECTED BIBLIOGRAPHY	387
-----------------------------	-----

INDEX.....	411
------------	-----