
Contents

List of tables and figures	vii
List of contributors	ix
Introduction by editors	xi

PART I CONTINUITY AND DISCONTINUITY IN HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE

1 Continuity and change in Swedish banking	3
Ragnhild Lundström
2 The Norwegian banking system before and after the interwar crises	12
Even Lange
3 Origins of the banking system in interwar Czechoslovakia	22
Jan Hájek
4 Banking and nationality in Hungary, 1867–1914	32
Zoltán Szász
5 Universal banking in the Slovene region, 1900–1945	44
Franjo Štiblar

PART II CENTRAL BANKS, THE STATE AND UNIVERSAL BANKS

6 Production versus currency: the Danish Central Bank in the 1920s	59
Per H. Hansen
7 Norwegian banks and the legacy of the interwar years	77
Sverre Knutsen
8 The establishment of the Anglo-Czechoslovak Bank: conflicting interests	96
Charlotte Natmeßnig
9 The failure of crisis management: banking laws in interwar Austria	116
Gertrude Enderle-Burcel

PART III UNIVERSAL BANKS AND INDUSTRY

10 Banking system changes after the establishment of the Independent Czechoslovak Republic	131
Vlastislav Lacina
11 Bank–industry relations in interwar Slovakia	142
Jozef Falus

vi Universal banking in the twentieth century

- 12 'Mushrooms and dinosaurs': Sieghart and the Boden-Credit-Anstalt during the 1920s 155
P.L. Cottrell
- 13 'For better, for worse ...': the Credit-Anstalt and its customers in 1931 178
Dieter Stiefel
- 14 The Wiener Bank-Verein and its customers in the 1920s and 1930s 194
Désirée D. Verdonk
- 15 Financing industrial companies in interwar Austria: working capital and liquidity 208
Alois Mosser
- 16 The industrial clientele of the Hungarian General Credit Bank, 1920-26 215
Agnes Pogány

PART IV BANKERS AND BANK-INDUSTRY NETWORKS

- 17 Networks of bankers and industrialists in Greece in the interwar period 229
Margarita Dritsas
- 18 Interlocking directorships between banks and industry in interwar Sweden 246
Jan Ottosson
- 19 Interlocking directorships between commercial banks and industry in interwar Vienna 260
Peter Eigner
- Index 295

Tables and figures

Tables

1.1	Production in Swedish mining and manufacturing	3
1.2	Visible capital formation and financing in joint-stock companies	6
1.3	Nominal share capital in selected industries	9
2.1	Shares of Norwegian loan market, 1850–90	16
2.2	Shares of Norwegian loan market, 1890–1920	18
2.3	Shares of Norwegian loan market, 1920–80	19
3.1	Deposits of Böhmsche Sparkasse and Městská Spóritelna Pražská, 1901–4	25
3.2	Joint-stock capital of Czech and German commercial banks in the Czech Lands and of commercial banks in Vienna, 1890–1913	26
4.1	The banking institutions of the nationalities in Hungary, 1890–1912	34
6.1	Metal reserve requirements against the note issue of the Nationalbanken	61
6.2	Deposits of commercial and savings banks	62
6.3	Liabilities of Danish banks, 1870–1939	63
6.4	Assets of Danish banks, 1870–1939	63
6.5	Deposits, note issue and index of bank share prices, 1918–32	66
6.6	Total write-offs in Danish banks, 1921–32	66
7.1	Distribution of credit provided by Norwegian commercial and savings banks on short- and long-term loans	82
7.2	Supply of capital from the stock market as a percentage of the financing of net fixed capital in Norwegian companies	82
7.3	External and internal financing as a percentage of the financing of net fixed capital formation in Norwegian enterprises	83
7.1A	Distribution of loans from savings and commercial banks, 1927 and 1930	93
7.2A	Market shares in the Norwegian loan market, 1900–1955	93
10.1	Capital stock and total balances of the main commercial banks in Czechoslovakia	135
10.2	Commercial banks in the Czech Lands, 1918–28	137
11.1	Number of banks and main balance items of all banks in Slovakia	144
11.2	Capital resources of the biggest banks in Slovakia	147
14.1	Balance totals of the seven biggest Viennese banks, 1925–34	196
14.2	The geographical distribution of WBV credits, 1925–33	197

viii Universal banking in the twentieth century

14.3	The customers of the WBV in Hungary, Romania and Yugoslavia, 1925–33	197
14.4	Amounts of credits granted by domestic and foreign branches of the WBV, 1925–33	198
14.5	Distribution of the number of Austrian and foreign customer firms of the WBV by industry, 1925–33	200
14.6	Distribution of the number of Konzern firms of the WBV by industry, 1925–33	201
14.7	Total sum and percentage of credits to Konzern firms, 1925–33	203
15.1	Liquidity of industrial joint-stock companies, 1923–32	211
15.2	Structure of capital and profits of joint-stock companies, 1923–32	213
16.1	The most frequently mentioned industrial companies in the credit protocols of the Credit Bank, 1920–26	217
16.2	The Credit Bank's industrial concern	218
16.3	Types of relationship between the Credit Bank and members of its industrial concern	224
18.1	Distribution of personal links between banks and industry in Sweden, 1918–24 and 1928–34	250
18.2	Number and percentage of personal links between banks and industry by bank, 1918–24 and 1928–34	251
19.1	Total number of interlocking directorships of ten Viennese joint-stock banks with industrial joint-stock companies	262
19.2	Distribution of interlocking directorships by industry	263
19.3	BCA's interlocking directorships and companies, 1908–17	265
19.4	The Board members of the BCA and their interlocking directorships, 1928	269
19.5	Distribution of interlocking directorships of the BCA by industry, 1917 and 1928	273
19.6	Bank activities in the main industries of the BCA until 1928	275
19.7	The board members of the NEG and their interlocking directorships, 1928	282
19.8	Distribution of the interlocking directorships of the NEG by industry, 1917 and 1928	285
19.9	Bank activities in the main industries of the NEG until 1928	287
Figures
14.1	Total credit volume and industrial production index	205
18.1	Changed links between banks and industry in Sweden, 1918–24 and 1928–34	253
18.2	Changed links between banks and industry in Sweden by type, 1918–24 and 1928–34	254