

Contents

Foreword	xi
Terry Davies

Preface	xiii
Adam M. Finkel and Dominic Golding

PART I: Introduction

Conference Background and Overview

1. Should We—and Can We—Reduce the Worst Risks First?	3
Adam M. Finkel

Keynote Address

2. Rationalism and Redemocratization: Time for a Truce	21
Alice M. Rivlin

PART II: The EPA Paradigm

Framing the Debate

3. EPA's Vision for Setting National Environmental Priorities	33
F. Henry Habicht II
4. An Overview of Risk-Based Priority Setting at EPA	47
Charles W. Kent and Frederick W. Allen
5. Integrating Science, Values, and Democracy through Comparative Risk Assessment	69
Jonathan Lash
6. A Proposal to Address, Rather Than Rank, Environmental Problems	87
Mary O'Brien

Methodological Concerns

7. Current Priority-Setting Methodology: Too Little Rationality or Too Much? 107
Dale Hattis and Robert L. Goble
8. Quantitative Risk Ranking: More Promise Than the Critics Suggest 133
M. Granger Morgan

Procedural Concerns

9. Paradigms, Process, and Politics: Risk and Regulatory Design 147
Donald T. Hornstein
10. Is Reducing Risk the Real Objective of Risk Management? 167
Richard B. Belzer

Implementation Concerns

11. State Concerns in Setting Environmental Priorities: Is the Risk-Based Paradigm the Best We Can Do? 181
Victoria J. Tschinkel
12. The States: The National Laboratory for the Risk-Based Paradigm? 187
G. Tracy Mehan III

Consolidating the Discussions

13. Working Group Discussions 193
Adam M. Finkel and Dominic Golding

PART III: Three Alternative Paradigms

The Prevention Paradigm

14. Pollution Prevention: Putting Comparative Risk Assessment in Its Place 203
Barry Commoner
15. Hammers Don't Cut Wood: Why We Need Pollution Prevention and Comparative Risk Assessment 229
John D. Graham

The Environmental Justice Paradigm

- 16. Unequal Environmental Protection: Incorporating Environmental Justice in Decision Making 237
Robert D. Bullard
- 17. Risk-Based Priorities and Environmental Justice 267
Albert L. Nichols

The Industrial Transformation Paradigm

- 18. An Innovation-Based Strategy for the Environment 275
Nicholas A. Ashford
- 19. Promoting Innovation "The Easy Way" 315
James D. Wilson

PART IV: Conclusions

- 20. Summary of Closing Panel Discussion 325
Adam M. Finkel and Dominic Golding
- 21. Recurring Themes and Points of Contention 329
Adam M. Finkel and Dominic Golding
- 22. Afterthoughts 335
Adam M. Finkel

APPENDIX

- Conference Attendees 345