

Contents

Preface and Acknowledgments	vii
1. Why Addiction Is Not a Disease And Why We Should Care that It Not Be Treated as Such	i
2. Alcoholism in America How We Discovered that Alcohol Is Addictive and that So Many People Are Alcoholics	31
3. Who Says What the Truths about Alcoholism Are?	55
4. Transforming the Addict into a Role Model, and the Person into an Addict	85
5. The Addiction Treatment Industry	115
6. What Is Addiction, and How Do People Get It? Values, Intentions, Self-Restraint, and Environments	145

7. How People Quit Addictions, Usually on Their Own	173
8. Our Confusion over Law, Morality, and Addiction	203
9. How We Lost Control of Our World	231
10. Creating a World Worth Living In Community, Efficacy, and Values	259
Notes
Index	289
About the Author	311
	323