
Contents

Preface	v
Introduction	1
1. Employment	7
1.1 Summary	7
1.2 Civil service employment	7
1.3 Numbers employed	9
1.4 The cost of public service employment	12
1.5 Changes in cost of civil service employment	13
1.6 Discussion	17
2. Grading: The two main systems	21
2.1 Summary	21
2.2 The British model	21
2.3 The French model	32
3. Grading issues	43
3.1 Summary	43
3.2 Educational qualifications, grade and salary	43
3.3 The regrading of posts	49
3.4 The grading of new posts	51
3.5 General classes or cadres?	52
3.6 How many grades and classes?	54
3.7 Discussion	55
4. Recruitment and promotion	59
4.1 Summary	59
4.2 Recruitment and vacancies	59
4.3 Recruitment grades	61
4.4 Recruitment methods	62
4.5 Machinery for recruitment	64
4.6 Requirements for promotion	65
4.7 Procedures for promotion	69
4.8 Expectations and probabilities of promotion	73
4.9 Discussion	78
5. Salary systems and structures	83
5.1 Summary	83
5.2 Why have salary scales?	83

6.A	Size of first increment in British-based systems	113
6.B	Size of final increment in British-based systems	114
6.C	Size of first increment in French-based systems	116
6.D	Size of final increment in French-based systems	116
7.A	Effect of changes in grading and salary scale revisions on average salaries, 1980-85	129
7.B	Effects of narrowing differentials between ladders, Morocco, 1977-85	131
7.C	Range of salary ladders, Morocco, 1977 and 1985	132
7.D	Indices of changes in highest and lowest basic salaries, 1975-85	133
7.E	Non-promotion salary indices to 1985 over different periods, Ethiopia	136
7.F	Real salary indices to 1985 over different periods, Gambia	137
7.G	Real salary indices to 1987 over different periods, Kenya	138
7.H	Ratio of highest to lowest civil service salaries, 1975-85	139
7.I	Distribution of civil service salaries	141
7.J	Changes in money wages, cohort studies	143
7.K	Changes in real salaries, cohort studies	149
8.A	Function allowances, Mauritania	164
8.B	Function allowance index points, Central African Republic	165
8.C	Basic salary, standard allowances and function allowance, Tunisia	165
8.D	Total allowances as a percentage of total salaries	168
9.A	Civil service and other public sector salary scales, Sudan	177
9.B	Average monthly earnings and salary scales, Nigeria, 1985	178
9.C	Comparison of public service pay with other sectors of employment	180
10.A	Pension provisions	188
10.B	Retirement pensions as a percentage of basic salary	193
11.A	Numbers of atypical employees	200
11.B	Number of atypical employees, 1975-85	201
11.C	Net salary of auxiliaries as index of permanent employees, Niger	204
11.D	Salaries of agents permanents as index of fonctionnaires , Togo	204
11.E	Salaries of temporaries as index of permanent staff, Tunisia	205
12.A	Different measures of changes in wages and real wages	215