

Contents

Introduction	11
1. Benjamin Franklin: "The Way to Wealth"	19
A Ghost in Spectacles	19
Franklin as Mentor: "Advice to a Young Tradesman" and "The Way to Wealth"	21
Franklin as Role Model: Horatio Alger in Colonial America	26
Franklin as Team Player: The Junto and Other Groups	31
Franklin as Moral Bookkeeper: The Art of Virtue	36
Franklin as Symbol: Posterity Talks Back	39
2. John Jacob Astor: "A Self-Invented Money-Making Machine"	46
The Fascination of Wealth	46
Seven Flutes	47
Furs and Tea	49
Monopoly	51
The Landlord of New York	53
The Will That Enraged a City	56

3. Cornelius Vanderbilt: "I Never Cared for Money"	59
Young Vanderbilt	59
On His Own	62
Vanderbilt's Revenge	63
Across the Atlantic	65
Vanderbilt Versus the Merrimac	65
"Hain't I Got the Power?"	66
The Battle of Erie	69
Watered Stock and a Grand Depot	72
The Lion in Winter	74
"One Honest, Sturdy, Fearless Man"	76
4. The Literature of Success in the Nineteenth Century	78
"Our Is a Country . . ."	78
Wealth Through Virtue	80
"Book Learning Is Something . . ."	83
Holy Horatio	87
5. Dissenting Voices: 1850	92
Thoreau's Success Book	92
Brook Farm	98
Herman Melville	102
6. John D. Rockefeller: "Bound to Be Rich!"	110
"Go Steady"	110
"The Difficult Art of Getting"	114
"The Difficult Art of Giving"	118
7. Andrew Carnegie: "I Could Have Slain King, Duke, or Lord . . ."	123
"The Gospel of Wealth"	123
"My Chief Happiness"	127
8. J. Pierpont Morgan: "And to Think He Was Not a Rich Man!"	129
A Banker's Son	129
Railroad Finance	133
Morgan the Collector	135

Morgan the Consolidator	138
“A One-Man Federal Reserve”	139
The Last of His Kind	141
9. Opulence	143
Mansions of the Mighty	144
Newport	146
Mr. Make-a-Lister	151
Famous and Infamous Parties	153
10. Dissenting Voices: 1865–1915	156
Thorstein Veblen: The Anatomist of Opulence	156
Henry George: The Man Who Raised Hell	163
Aristocrats of Intellect: The Adams Brothers	169
Aristocrats of Intellect: The James Brothers	174
Unions	178
The Muckrakers	181
11. Henry Ford: The Consummate Crank	190
The Machine That Changed America	190
“The Way to Make Automobiles”	195
Total Control	200
The Power to Destroy	203
“It Was My Grandfather Who Killed My Father”	206
Endgame and Rebirth	209
12. Alfred P. Sloan, Jr.: The Consummate Professional	212
The Organization Builders	212
Saving General Motors	215
“A Car for Every Purse and Purpose”	217
Sloan on Sloan	218
13. Madison Avenue	220
The Mass Market	220
The Adman Cometh	222
Hard Sell, Soft Sell	225
Reeves, Rubicam, Burnett, and Ogilvy	229
The Consumption Ethic	233

14. The Literature of Success in the Twentieth Century	238
Old Wine in New Bottles	238
"TO THINK SUCCESS BRINGS SUCCESS"	245
The Power of Personality	251
"If You Want to Gather Honey"	254
"Personality Always Wins the Day"	257
15. Dissenting Voices: 1920–1945	261
Sinclair Lewis	261
The Agrarians	270
The Modern Corporation and Private Property	274
John L. Lewis	282
Horatio Alger with a Switchblade	288
16. The Triumph of IBM	294
The Consummate Corporation	294
"Sell and Serve"	296
Monopoly?	301
"Ever Onward!"	303
17. Dissenting Voices: 1945–1990	307
The Organization Man in an Age of Plenty	307
John Kenneth Galbraith	312
Citizen Nader	320
18. Poor Richard Revisited	328
Whatever Happened to Yankee Know-how?	328
Whatever Happened to Thrift?	333
Looking Out for Number One	336
The Bottom Line	339
Sources	342
Index	356